"Our Fraternity is neither a religious body nor a political organization. It is neither a scheme for the relief of the poor, nor a substitute for life insurance. It advocates no special creed, neither does it seek to influence legislation. It does not deliver to its members homilies dealing with the moralizing effects of rags, neither does it ask them to support the families of their deceased brothers. It is not even a social organization in the accepted sense of that term. It is the most simple, the most unobtrusive, the least ostentatious and, when its purpose is properly carried out, the most beneficial order within my knowledge."

INTRODUCTORY

THE commanding position assumed by Greek Letter Men in cultured communities will render unnecessary any excuse for the appearance of a work dealing with them and their organizations.

Few decades have passed since Fraternities became an active force in the undergraduate life of American colleges, and like every young institution of far-reaching effect they were forced to combat with unreasoning prejudice and ignorance. Persecuted by college faculties, and opposed by parents who saw in the element of secrecy a cloak to all manner of vice, the societies continued to progress silently but irresistibly until, sweeping away every obstacle by the sheer force of their raison d'être they became as firmly established as the colleges or universities of which they were part.

Greek Letter Fraternities are now recognized, approved and encouraged by the authorities of all liberal and advanced institutions of learning in the United States. It is needless to speak here in defense of sacred bonds of brotherhood which none but a fraternity man can comprehend and which by him are never undervalued. Through no other means could a student satisfy his instinctive desire for sympathetic comradeship, close intimacy and enduring friendship; and how adequately the Fraternity has fulfilled its purpose is best attested by the loving memories and imperishable loyalty of members whose college days lie far in the past. Whether the influence thus exerted is for good or for evil is eloquently answered by the achievements of Greek Letter Men in every field of human activity. Few are chosen for membership in these select bodies, but from their short rolls have issued names to grace the pages of industrial, professional and political annals, and make more honorable the history of our national life.

In no community have Greek Letter Fraternities enjoyed a more enviable reputation than in Philadelphia. Introduced into the University of Pennsylvania a half century ago, they flourished despite a mild opposition from the faculty, and after surviving the terrible strain of a sectional war increased rapidly in numbers and popularity. From their inception the Greek Letter Men of Philadelphia have been leaders in college life and scholastic honors, in social intercourse, and potent factors in civic life. The object of this book is to present such data and general information as will be of peculiar interest to them, and as well to aid in the creation of an united family of Greek Letter Brethren, all of whom should be allied by a subtle bond of common aims and common interests.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE FRATERNITY

THE Greek Letter Societies of the American Universities are secret organizations of students, who form these brotherhoods for literary and social purposes. The oldest of these organizations, the Phi Beta Kappa, was established as early as 1776, and it continued the sole society of its kind for fifty years. It now differs from all other college fraternities and occupies a unique place of its own. Its members are selected at the close of their under-graduate course, and are chosen solely on grounds of scholarship. Membership in one fraternity is ordinarily a bar to membership in another, although this is not the case in the Phi Beta Kappa.

The large place these organizations have come to occupy in the American universities can be inferred from the fact that there are now more than 800 "chapters" of these societies in our colleges, and that their total membership, including their alumni, is more than 100,000.

In Germany and America students' societies form an important feature of university life. These organizations influence in no small degree the daily life of their members. They largely determine the social intercourse of students, give rise to lasting friendships, regulate conduct, shape ideals and aspirations, and influence views and habits.

We have in our American universities nothing that answers to the Corps and Burschenschaften of the German universities. The Corps are said to be recruited entirely from the wealthy and aristocratic classes, and to attach great importance to the externals of manners and expenditures, and to be characterized by a strong tendency to an aristocratic aloofness from the great mass of the students.*

*See Paulsen's German Universities, p. 190.

They are the elite of the student body. When they appear together on formal occasions they carry swords and wear a distinguishing dress. They are composed in the main of students enrolled under the faculty of law, and in less degree from those enrolled under the faculty of medicine. The Burschenschaften are said to make less of social distinctions, to be less exclusive and to have a greater number of representatives of the different faculties.

There is no element of secrecy about the corps of the German universities. Their statutes of organization and by-laws have to be submitted to the university authorities for approval. The Corps-Kneipe is a club room rather than a "lodge," and outsiders are often invited to the meetings. A corps has no "chapters" as our American college societies have. It has no existence outside its own university. Its meetings are held twice a week, while the American college society meets once a week. The corps students are duelists and each corps has its Fecht-boden or fencing room, where its members meet every day for practice among themselves.†

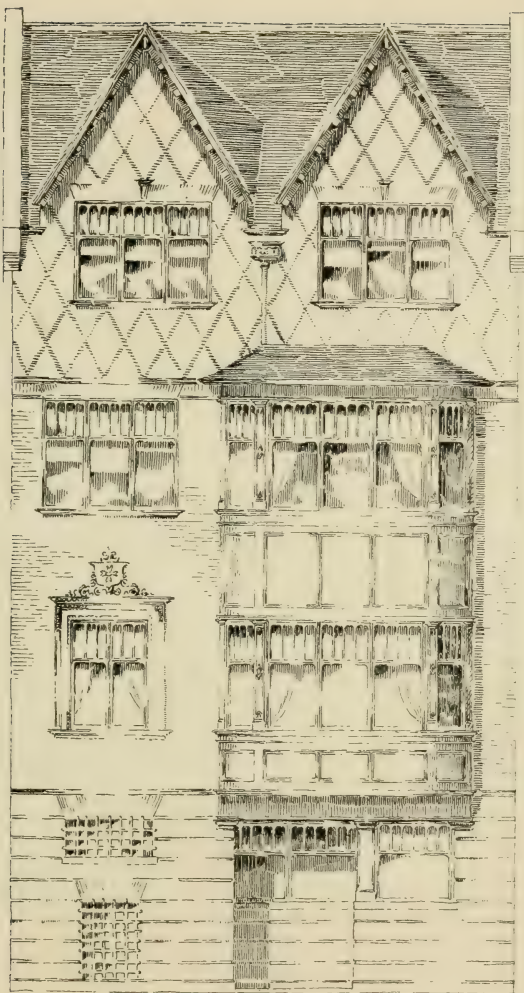

There also exist in the German universities the Verbindungen, which are mere social clubs. These also are independent organizations having no "chapters." Their fellowship is less close and exclusive than that of the Corps or of the Burschenschaften.

In the English and Scotch universities there seems to be nothing which at all resembles the college fraternities of the United States. Their societies are not secret and answer to the open literary societies of the American universities.

In the college fraternities of the United States membership is usually indicated by gold badges, which contain the name and some of the symbols of the fraternity. Sometimes they are set in diamonds and precious stones, and are quite costly. In the German universities the societies are distinguished by "color-wearing." They wear distinctive caps of a particular color, or some color emblem attached to their dress.

In the United States it has become quite the practice for the students of a particular fraternity to reside together during their college course in their chapter house. A few years ago there were said to be seventy such houses in the United States which were owned by the chapters, and three times as many which were rented. There are decided advantages in this practice, as well as some dangers that need to be guarded against. The members of a chapter thus living together learn day by day what has been called the great art of governing themselves. In Germany it is said that there are no laws in the world which are more scrupulously obeyed and more strictly upheld than the laws which the students' societies impose upon themselves. As a rule the fraternity houses in the United States are well conducted. Severe rules are established, which prohibit students from having intoxicating liquors inside these houses, and which forbid any form of gambling. The graduate members residing in the town often keep up intimate relations with their society, and are keen observers of the manner in which the under-graduates deport themselves.

Years ago, when the people were stirred to a high state of excitement against secret societies, chiefly due to their indignation with Masonry, some of the universities undertook to suppress college fraternities. The attempt led to much bad feeling and was finally abandoned. As early as 1789, however, eight years after Phi Beta Kappa was established at Harvard, and long before the anti-masonic agitation, a committee of the Overseers reported to the board 'that there is an institution in the university with the nature of which the government is not acquainted, which tends to make a discrimination among the students,' and submitted the propriety of inquiring into its nature and design. The chairman of that committee was the John Hancock whose signature to the Declaration of Independence has made him immortal! In 1831 the Harvard Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa were induced, "after a long and angry discussion," participated in by Judge Story and John Quincy Adams, to throw open the secrets of that organization to the world. This society is said to constitute a kind of aristocracy of learning in a democratic country. Its name in full is, translated, Philosophy, the Guide of Life. A distinguished Harvard professor has said that this "is the only society whose right to examine the condition of our scholarship is unquestioned." All other Greek Letter societies in our colleges are secret organizations, with the exception of the Delta Upsilon, which is non-secret.

Various judgments have been pronounced upon the value of college fraternities. They have been denounced by not a few on the ground that they lead to a neglect of study and to a waste of time; that they involve considerable expense and develop habits of extravagant expenditure; that they inculcate false social standards and tend to a supercilious contempt of non-fraternity men; that they lead to dissipation and vice. On the other hand, we are told that these organizations are helpful and wholesome; that they have high ideals and hold in check evil tendencies; that the esprit de corps by which they are characterized exerts an excellent influence ; that they tend to develop a pride of scholarship by requiring their members to complete their studies creditably, if for no other motive, then, for the sake of the society's reputation and standing ; that they are organized for the intellectual and moral and social improvement of their members.

The truth of the matter is that societies differ just as individuals differ. There are college fraternities whose influence is not altogether wholesome, and from which a student had better keep aloof. There are also fraternities which are in a high degree in every way helpful, and to which it is an honor for any man to belong. If this were not the case, it would be quite impossible to understand the respect and affection with which mature men of the highest type, men like George William Curtis and Joseph H. Choate, have been wont to speak of their college fraternity. It would be still less possible to comprehend why such men should consent to have their sons initiated into the same society if its influences made for evil and not good. Generalizations are always dangerous. We are not to condemn college societies because some of them may be not altogether what they should be. For the same reason we should not commend them without reservation because some of them may be most wholesome and helpful. It is as necessary to discriminate between societies as it is between individuals. A student proposing to enter a college fraternity should study its membership and determine whether the men who compose it are the manner of men he wants for friends. This much, however, should in all fairness be said : No college fraternity can be wholly bad and long exist in any reputable university. It is the duty of college authorities to weed out bad men. Men who abandon themselves to dissipation and to a neglect of work, when they are found out, as sooner or later they are pretty sure to be, are set adrift. And a society composed of men inclined to dissipation would be under the necessity of reforming itself before it became very bad, or it would be liable to be suppressed by action of the proper authorities.

The fact that the universities permit these organizations to exist affords strong presumption that they are favorably regarded, and that as a class their influence is for good rather than evil. Princeton is the only institution of any particular prominence in the country in which fraternities are prohibited, and there is no reason to believe that the morale of the student body is any higher there than in the institutions in which a contrary policy is pursued. Indeed it would not be difficult to show by the utterances of numerous college presidents that these organizations on the whole simplify college government and are an aid to administrative officers in the influences which they bring to bear in favor of correct living.

The following table gives the Men's General Fraternities established between 1825 and 1869 inclusive, showing the institution in which they were first established and the date of organization :

These organizations pride themselves on a distinguished membership. They number among their adherents many men who have won eminence in statesmanship, diplomacy, jurisprudence, letters, the arts, and in all the various walks of life. There are found in the faculties of the universities their strong supporters, men whose personal experience and observation has led them to the conclusion that these societies are worthy of a place in our institutions for the higher learning. But every effort should be made to keep these organizations from degenerating into mere social clubs, and no person should be admitted into their membership unless he is possessed of those intellectual, moral and social qualities which render intimate association with him desirable and helpful. Fraternity men are sometimes accused of entertaining a weak, narrow and unworthy prejudice which occasionally leads them to look down upon or to depreciate non-fraternity or "neutral" men. It may be that such a spirit now and then appears. That it is discreditable and unworthy is evident. But that it is largely entertained is not believed. That it should be frowned upon by all admits of no doubt.

DURANTE VITA

*Arcana coelestia ;
Sic sunt perpetua.*

DURANTE vita ; aye to end of life,
What hallowed, golden memories are rife.
O'ertopping Recollection's thronging plain,
Uprise the columns of a lofty fane.
No hooded monks nor priestly denizens
Its altars guard, or dole its benisons
To cringing devotees whose every word
Is by direction of some mitred lord.
The humblest pilgrim to this mystic shrine
A monarch is, by kingly rights divine ;
While most exalted of this knightly clan,
Despite his rank, is but a fellow man.
Here brothers on a common level meet,
The ancient ties to weld, the new to greet ;
And hither may the wanderers return
Whose hearts for friendship unalloyed still yearn.
Inscribed above this portal as you pass
Appears the simple word, " Fraternitas."'
O temple beautiful, O temple fair,
What fond associations cluster there !
The hopes, ambitions, loves of Springtime days,
That linger in a mellow Autumn haze ;
A fellowship which casteth out all fears,
Unshaken in the flood of passing years.
Fit emblem thou of that millennial good—
Humanity's united brotherhood.
These sacred memories shall still be rife,
Forsooth durante vita,—during life.

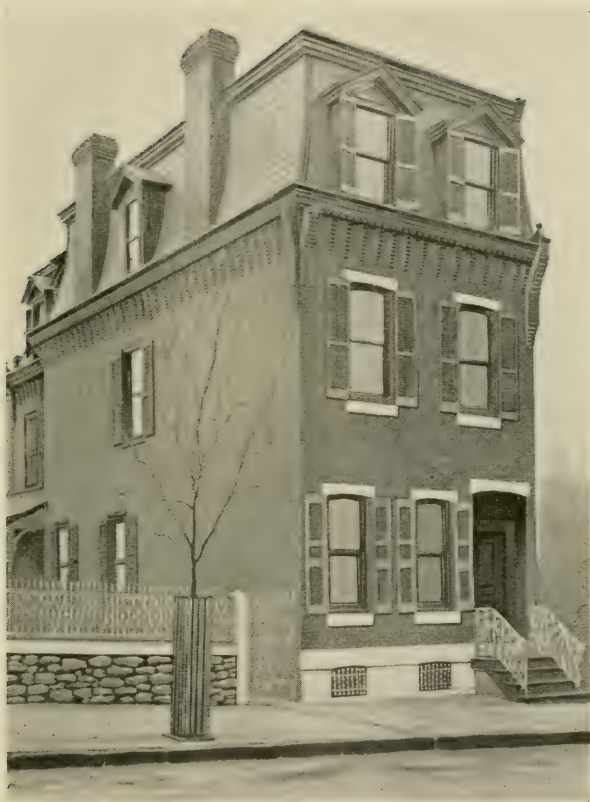

EARLY DAYS

IN the striking development of the American college the growth of the social side has kept close and steady pace, crystalizing in what is termed the Fraternity System. So perfectly and systematically has the fraternity or brotherhood idea grown that to-day there are few colleges of reputation, rank or size that are not largely influenced and controlled by it.

The birth of the system dates from the historic year of American Independence. Like the nation, small and trembling, but brave, the first chapter of a Greek Letter Society announced its advent in the patriotic village of Williamsburg, Va., on a bleak December night, 1776. It was here in this secluded village, amid the primeval forests, that had been founded in the closing days of the seventeenth century the second oldest college on American soil.

Perhaps the Virginia colony lacked that devotion to religion and education that characterized the self-sacrificing men who established Harvard; yet the love of that culture born only of education and liberty was exemplified in the founding of a college so early in the history of the colony.

Near the old college walls stood a modest hostelry where hospitality was dispensed in true colonial fashion. College and tavern grew old together, and their frequenters little dreamed of the place in history both were destined to take. But within the Raleigh Inn the voice of Patrick Henry, in tones which perpetuated his name, uttered the first battle note of the struggle for independence, and in the year that witnessed the same sentiment, armed with legislative authority, five students of William and Mary, while seated at the hospitable board of the Raleigh Inn, expressed their bond of fellowship in a written constitution. This society was known by the Greek letters "Phi Beta Kappa." Secrecy may have been a useless appendage to this small band of congenial students, but their aim was considered best so subserved and its members were only known by a badge in the form of a small golden key upon which was engraved "Phi Beta Kappa," the initials of their motto.

In 1779 a newcomer arrived among the students of William and Mary in the person of Mr. Elisha Parmele. Mr. Parmele was initiated into the mysteries of Phi Beta Kappa, and so thoroughly was he convinced that the Virginia dinners enjoyed by this society would taste equally as well at Harvard and Yale, where he had formerly studied, that he journeyed one fine fall day, by horse and stage, to New Haven, where, in December, 1779, he established the chapter at Yale, and a few days later there was added to the Hasty Pudding and Institute of 1770 at Harvard the Southern society of Phi Beta Kappa. Thus were the first chapters of the oldest Greek letter society founded.

But the Alpha chapter was destined to soon experience the evil effects of war, which has twice clothed the college of William and Mary in poverty. In 1781, General Cornwallis, advancing near Williamsburg, forced this university to temporarily close. The chapter necessarily became extinct. Harvard and Yale, however, rapidly extended the order, and chapters were soon thriving at Dartmouth, Williams, Bowdoin and Amherst. More than seventy years after the suspending of the parent chapter, one of the original members, although nearly a centenarian, made the long journey from Philadelphia to William and Mary to re-establish the chapter.

As the century was nearing the end of its first quarter, time-honored Phi Beta Kappa had already lost the social characteristics of a Raleigh Inn dinner, and, more and more, an election to its membership was considered as a reward of scholastic merit. The golden key, so proudly worn by Virginia youths as the insignia of genial fellowship, was now taken as evidence of the possession of book lore and literary attainments.

Under these conditions, it is not strange that in 1825, at old Union College, four members of Phi Beta Kappa should reincarnate the lost spirit of the youths of '76 and boldly launch a secret society called Kappa Alpha. This was the first of the modern Greek letter fraternities, and it was not a great departure from the original idea of Phi Beta Kappa. They also had chosen a motto, by the initials of which they were known. Their badge was not a departure from the original idea of the older society. They also adopted a key, the only change being that they suspended it from a corner instead of from the center of its equal sides.

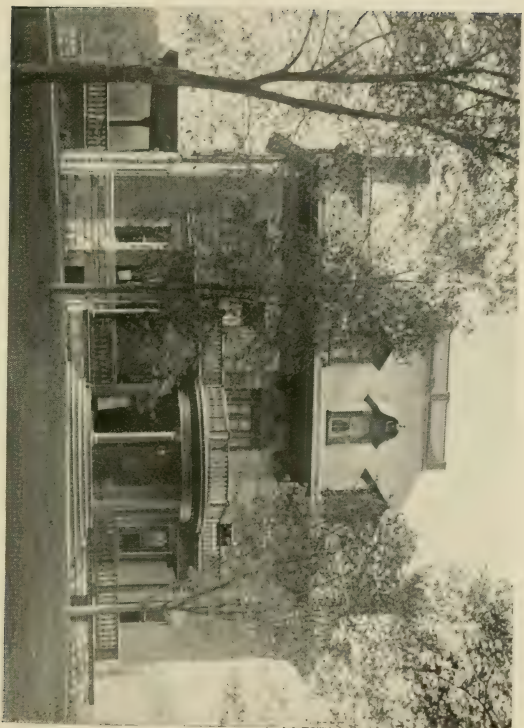

It was a stormy sea upon which this new craft embarked. The faculty was unfriendly. The student body, long accustomed to open literary societies, found no room for the new project. Yet the society prospered. It won its way into the heart of college life. Friend and foe acknowledged the courtesy of its members and the genialty of the wearers of the new badge.

Sigma Phi soon followed Kappa Alpha on the same campus, and in the short course of a few years other fraternities appeared, and the system of Greek letter brotherhoods became fairly and firmly launched.

It is interesting to reflect on the early days, when the Greek letter men were invariably the minority of the student body, and conditions everywhere seemed hostile to their existence. But the fraternity, contrary to expectations, proved to be an association whose influence was to broaden, rather than to narrow, the friendship of its members. It was a plea for friendship rather than a protest against it, and its influence became felt beyond the banded fellowship of its own conservative circle,

In the early days the chapter was a fraternity in itself, and if the mother chapter had planted charters in other colleges, the association between the two was not as intimate as it is to-day. It was seldom they came together. The fraternity interest seemed to be measured by the days in college, and was counted only a pleasant memory in the years which followed commencement. Those who organized these fraternities and shaped their policy in the early days builded far wiser than they knew.

Many are the men who answer to the roll-call of the classes of the thirties and forties, who, years after they had worn the old fraternity pin, found some genial youth displaying on his vest the old familiar insignia, and upon inquiry as to when and where such good fortune befell him, learned that the fraternity, which had grown dim and almost forgotten, had become an organization of strength and power, and its chapters were on the green campus of colleges of standing, from gulf to lakes, and from sea to sea. Such was the glad surprise to many and many of the "Older Boys," who had wandered into the commercial and professional world, leaving behind the pleasant memories of youth.

ALPHA DELTA PHI AT WILLIAMS

FRATERNITY

THE road that winds among the rocks, and lifts
The toiler up to heights where all the gifts,
Most manifold, of nature, are enhanced,
And vistas open to the mind entranced
With hopes half realized, is rough and steep.
The level paths are easier to keep.

There are no bruised feet upon the plain;
No sighs for hopes that proved to be in vain;
No eyes that ache and yet refuse to weep
Aweary grown with looking up the steep
Ascent for that which, failing of a name
Men call, for lack of better reason, fame.

No balm has yet been found for such as feel
No bruise. That rest alone is sweet and real
When Labor first prepares the couch and makes Immediate, magic cure of all our aches.

Whatever cause may underlie, 'tis true,
That fame has been monopolized by few
While millions failed, or else did not aspire.
The tide of fortune lifts few from the mire.
Who, beside Caesar passed the Rubicon?
At Waterloo, who stood with Wellington?
Who, with Napoleon, braved the Russian Bear?
With Washington, who crossed the Delaware?

Yet there were those who well deserved the meed
Awarded to the one. Their country's need
Became their own, and they as freely gave
Of their heart's blood—nor deigned one drop to save—
As he on whom the laurel wreath was laid.
One name shines through the years, while others fade.

Yet fame is ever circumscribed by fears,
Success breeds cares and victory hath its tears.
The happiest homes are not in palace halls,
Nor hearts found truest where the ermine falls.

In truth, to climb Aornus were an end
Most meet, if on the heights were found a friend
Whose trustful soul against your own would grow,
Too close to be cast off at any blow
Aimed by the tongue of envy or of hate.
They scarce deserve the name of friends who wait
On Fortune, when the brook grows shallow—fools—
Casting about their line for deeper pools.
These last comprise the most of humankind,
And even fame is not so hard to find
As the pure love from friendship's sacred mine,
Which, purged from dross, becomes almost divine.

Not hoarded treasure gained by years of toil,
The finer senses being dulled meanwhile;
Not high position, with its motley horde
Of clinging sycophants, whose every word
Belies the real desire for pelf and place;
Not the brief honor of the winning race
For fame, where false ambition sets the pace;
Not one or all combined can fill the space
Of individual life, from dawn to dark
With full content, whene'er there lacks the spark

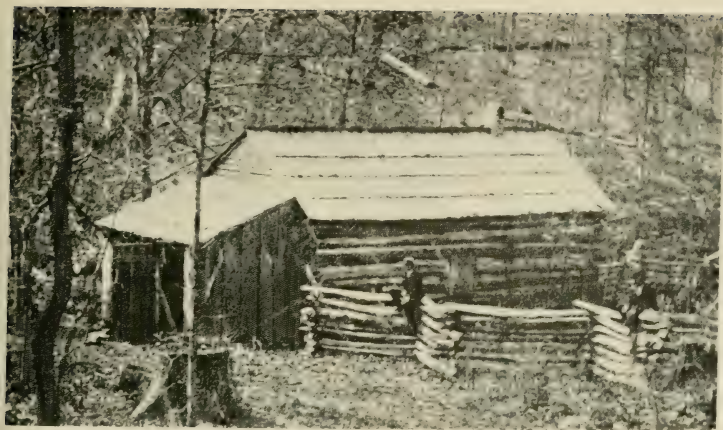

DELTA PHI HOUSE AT YALE

Within the breast which makes of all mankind
A brotherhood. As well attempt to find
A pearl or diamond in the serpent's nest.
As rare content or perfect peace and rest
Where naught but sordid avarice abides
And greed has scorched the soul it all but hides.

Let that fair word, Fraternity, sink deep
Into your hearts and lives, for round it sweep,
At ever varying range, half of the light
And sunshine of this life. It brings no blight,
But bloom instead. It proves a healing balm
To minds diseased. It finds a haven calm
For storm-tossed souls which else might have been lost.
It tells the truth whatever proves the cost.

Fraternity—thou child of college halls,
Although not circumscribed by any walls—
To thee we pledge the cup and faith renew.
To joys you add, in measure more than due,
And to the sorrows, bid us kiss the rod,
Seeing 'in them, fraternity with God.

KAPPA ALPHA

THE Kappa Alpha Fraternity can justly claim the honor of being the oldest social and literary secret Greek letter organization in the United States. In 1823 a secret social society was formed at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., as a result of discord which had arisen between two factions of a military company at that place. The late Rev. John H. Hunter was the father of this organization and with him were a number of congenial students, holding meetings at their respective houses. In 1825 they formally organized themselves as a secret fraternity, known as Kappa Alpha.

For some time the members were severely criticised and met with strong opposition. Two years later, however, two other societies sprang into existence—Sigma Phi and Delta Phi.

Dr. Hunter and his associates, among whom were Prof. Isaac W. Jackson of Union College, Dr. Thomas Hunn of Albany, N. Y., Rev. Leonard Woods, D. D., ex-president of Bowdoin, United States Senator Preston King from New York, Judge Rufus W. Peckham of Albany, and Judge Levi Hubbell of Milwaukee, had no dream of such a chain of societies binding institution to institution and men of different colleges together through the country, such as has been the direct result of their initial movement. The first group of Kappa Alpha men at Union stamped a character upon the society which it has never lost, and laid out its ceremonial features with such remarkable completeness that few changes have been made in them during seventy years.

In the fall of 1833 a chapter of Kappa Alpha was inaugurated at Williams College, where the opposition was so marked that in 1839 a social body, known as "The Equitable Fraternity," led a night attack against the members of Kappa Alpha at their rooms in a private residence about a mile from the College, but were repelled. In 1864 the society came into possession of a house and grounds in a most desirable part of Williamstown, and in 1877 a beautiful lodge was erected. The history of the chapter has been marked by unusual evenness of character and its prosperity has been continuous.

In 1844 Kappa Alpha established a chapter at Geneva (now Hobart), its members coming indirectly from a burlesque society named "The Skin and Bones." The meetings were held in the American Hotel (now the Kirkwood), where they had rooms properly fitted up. The chapter had a successful existence, and many of its members, later, became prominent in public life. In 1854 the chapter was suspended. The alumni at Hobart re-established the chapter in 1879, since which it has had a highly successful career. The chapter now has desirable grounds and plans are on foot to erect a fine lodge.

At Princeton, what bade fair to be a successful chapter was established in the winter of 1852. This chapter was given up because of the enactment of anti-fraternity laws at that place.

The career of Kappa Alpha at the University of Virginia, which was established in 1856, was a brief and brilliant one, its life being extinguished at the outbreak of the civil war, as most of its members naturally joined the Confederate army.

At Cornell, a chapter was inaugurated with the birth of the college, and in 1887 a very handsome lodge was constructed. The chapter there has been highly successful.

In 1892 a chapter was established at Toronto University.

In 1894 the last chapter was established, that of Lehigh, and like its predecessors, has started with a vim that cannot but win success.

The Union Chapter celebrated its semi-centennial with elaborate ceremonies in 1875, some of the original members being present.

Alumni organizations are in several cities. They hold annual reunions and banquets. A dining club is maintained by members of the society at New York City. Several reunions have also been held in Chicago.

Records have been published at intervals, the last of which was issued in 1892. Supplements are published annually.

The policy of Kappa Alpha is that of pronounced conservatism, and definitely against extension.

The emblem of the fraternity is a diamond-shaped golden key.

The fraternily color is scarlet.

The society has never admitted honorary members.

SIGMA PHI

THE Sigma Phi Fraternity was established at Union College in 1827. The founders were T. F. Bowrie, George N. Porter, Chas. Rowley, S. W. Beall, R. H. Champan and Chas. T. Cromwell. The policy of Sigma Phi from its foundation has been conservative. It has but eight active chapters in existence at the present time. They are at the following colleges: Union, Hamilton, Williams, Hobart, University of Vermont, University of Michigan, Lehigh and Cornell. Each chapter, except the one at Vermont, owns its chapter house.

The total membership is about 2,500.

The fraternity has no honorary members.

An annual convention of delegates from the various chapters governs the fraternity. This convention meets with each chapter in turn.

Catalogues have been issued every three or four years since the first one, which came out in 1834. Song books and addresses have also frequently been published for private circulation.

The badge of the fraternity is made up of the two Greek letters, "Sigma" and "Phi," in the form of a monogram.

The colors are light blue and white.

The Philadelphia Sigma Phis are few in number, as shown by the roster following this sketch.

While not formally organized they still maintain the close relations so characteristic of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

Prominent among the alumni of Sigma Phi are the following: A. D. White, Minister to Germany; H. C. Christiancy, Minister to Peru; John J.

Ingalls: United States Senator Theodore Otis; ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles J. Folger; ex-Comptroller of the Currency John J. Knox; Governors or ex-Governors, Hoffman of New York, Hartranft of Pennsylvania, Beall of Wisconsin and Walker of Virginia; Elihu Root and A. O. DELTA PHI

THE Delta Phi Fraternity may justly, and not without pride, lay claim to being one of the first to inaugurate Greek Letter Secret Society life in American colleges. It was founded at Union College, on November 17, 1827, and was the third to be there established, thus being the third oldest in this country. Shortly after the foundation of Delta Phi controversy arose amongst the students of Union College as to the desirability of secret societies. Open war was declared against them and the three fraternities were summoned before the faculty of Union College to show cause why they should not be disbanded. The defense devolved largely on Delta Phi. At that time it was the custom for college boys to wear distinctive caps, without brims. On the front of this cap the fraternity pin was worn. The other two fraternities for a time ceased to wear their badges, but Delta Phi persisted in her course and selected one of its members, John Jay Hyde, to present the Fraternity's case to the faculty and trustees. This he did with great brilliancy and clearness, and won then and there a victory not only for his own society, but for all other fraternities having like principles and equally high standing. So well was the cause of fraternity life defended, and so clearly was it shown that the fundamental laws of Delta Phi tended towards the high standing of the student as a gentleman and a scholar, that President Nott of Union College requested to be made an honorary member.

Thus Delta Phi was early associated with the high principles of American scholarship. As it was amongst the very first pioneers of fraternity life, so it was the first to be established at the University of Pennsylvania, being founded at that institution on February 17, 1849, as the Eta Chapter. This was the seventh chapter, the others being amongst the other Eastern colleges. The founders of the Eta Chapter were: Jesse Shenton Zane Sellers, of Philadelphia, who died July 1, 1893; James L. Appley, Springfield, Mass.; William James Feltus, Woodville, Mass., who died August 22, 1865; Dr. William Hembel Taggart, of Philadelphia; Henry James Feltus, of Baton Rouge, La.

The Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania has always attempted to live up to those standards as established by the mother Chapter at Union College. It has been its endeavor to use its influence for the advancement of the university from which it drew its membership. While proceeding on a most conservative basis, it has attempted to keep abreast of the times. The members of the Eta Chapter are mostly Philadelphians, and in its catalogue may be found the names of fathers, sons and even grandsons. As the fraternity at large has always followed the policy of keeping down the number of chapters and allowing but few to be established, so the Eta Chapter has but reflected the parent thought in keeping its membership as small as possible. In all of the fifty years of its establishment, there have been initiated only 304 men. It has graduated about forty-five lawyers, forty doctors and only a few ministers. There are many prominent men, who are members of the Delta Phi Fraternity, now residing in Philadelphia. Amongst them might be mentioned the following; Rev. Dr. George Dana Boardman, LL D., one of the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania; Hon. Clement Biddle Penrose, Judge of the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia County, and Hon. Christopher Magee, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County; Hon. John Cadwalader, ex-Collector of Port of Philadelphia and ex-President of Trust Company of North America; Dr. Charles E. Cadwalader; Dr. Henry C. Chapman, Professor of Physiology at Jefferson Medical College; Dr. William H. Lamberton, Professor of Greek, etc., at the University of Pennsylvania; Col. R. Dale Benson; Pemberton S. Hutchinson; Prof. D. C. Munro; Alexander Van Rensselaer; Josiah R. Adams; Wm. Henry Lex; A. Haller Gross; Prof. Roland Post Falkner; Wm. Churchill Houston; Neilson Brown; Henry B. Coxe, President of the Philadelphia Club; Ellicott Fisher; George Emlen; James D. Winsor; John B. Thayer; J. Campbell Lancaster; Edwin J. Sellers; Frank C. Dade, Jr.; Dr. E. Hollingsworth Siter; Rev. William H. Falkner, Milton Cooper Work, Henry B. Robb, George Quintard Horwitz, George Willing, Eckley B. Coxe, Jr., Richard Tilghman, Wm. Henry Ashurst, Dr. Charles E. Cadwalader, Dr. T. Hewson Bradford, Charles Willing, Bromley Wharton, Henry E. Drayton, Horace Howard Furness, G. G. Meade Large, Edward S. Miles, S. W. M. Peters, Wikoff Smith, Robert H. Large, W. Henry A. Willing, Harlow Voorhees and Joseph Harrison.

Delta Phi graduates have always taken a prominent part in the social life of Philadelphia. The different representative committees of all the clubs contain members of the Fraternity, and this is also true of the governing bodies of such old institutions as the "Assemblies," the "Bachelors' Dances," etc. Among the Presidents of the Philadelphia Club are the names of Mr. Pemberton S. Hutchinson; the late Col. George Meade, son of the Hero of Gettysburg, and Mr. Henry B. Coxe; and the President of the University Club is Mr. John Cadwalader.

The present active chapter has its temporary home at 3445 Walnut street. In the Spring a new house on Woodland avenue, opposite College Hall, will be built, which, while unpretentious, should be comfortable and cozy and fill the requirements of the members for some time to come. During the last fifteen years, since the University of Pennsylvania has been forging to the front as a great factor and victor in athletics, Delta Phi has done its little to help along. Always opposed to fraternity favoritism, all Delts, whenever able, have done what they could to bring success to their Alma Mater. That their efforts have not gone uncrowned by success is evidenced when such men as these are enrolled on the lists of the fraternity; Frederick W. Graham, captain of the foot-ball team in 1887; Thomas W. Hulme, captain of the foot-ball team, 1889; Henry B. Buck, well known as a quarter-mile runner; Louis De P. Vail, four years quarter back on the foot-ball team; Charles M. Wharton, captain foot-ball team 1896; A. King Dickson, pitcher for four years on the base ball nine. Besides these active positions on the various teams Delta Phi has been represented on all the Athletic Counsels and Boards of the University, and one of its prominent members was one of the founders of the present college daily. The ideal of Delta Phi, however, has been to always live quietly and unassumingly; to have the most pleasant cordial relations with all men and societies; to do its little part to maintain the high status of the American college student and to advance the interests of any college or university where it might be located—and to accomplish these things by insisting that its members shall be, in the broadest sense of the word, scholars and gentlemen.

The following is the chapter roll of Delta Phi: 1827, Alpha, Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.; 1838, Beta, Brown University, Providence, R. I.; 1841, Gamma, University of City of New York, New York City; 1842, Delta, Columbia College, New York City; 1845, Epsilon, Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J.; 1845, Zeta, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; 1849, Eta, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa.; 1864, Lambda, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.; 1884, Nu, Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, Pa.; 1885, Xi, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.; 1889, Omicron, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.; 1891, Pi, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

ALPHA DELTA PHI

ALPHA DELTA PHI was founded at Hamilton College in 1832. It was the fourth of the general Greek Letter Societies organized, and the only one originating at Hamilton. Samuel Eells was the prime mover in its organization.

The second chapter of the fraternity was established in 1835, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, under the personal supervision of Mr. Eells, the founder.

The Urban Chapter at the University of the City of New York was founded on July 28, of the same year, by Daniel Huntington, and one year later the Columbia Chapter at Columbia College, New York, was established.

The Yale Chapter followed after the lapse of another year, and was established by Alpha Delts who had been initiated at the Hamilton Chapter, and had subsequently become students at Yale.

Chapters at the following universities and colleges have been established since that time: Amherst College, Brown University, Hobart College, Michigan University, Western Reserve College, Bowdoin University, Dartmouth College, Rochester University, Alabama University, Williams College, College of the City of New York, Wesleyan University, Kenyon College, Chicago University, Cumberland University, Trinity College, Union University, Cornell University, Johns Hopkins University, University of Minnesota, Toronto University and McGill College.

There are at present twenty-three active chapters in the fraternity.

The badge was originally of the slab pattern, with a star and crescent wrought in gold, and was usually worn as a pendant. But later the present pearl skeleton badge, as illustrated in the cut preceeding this sketch, was adopted.

The first catalogue of the fraternity was issued in 1837. This was the first College Fraternity Catalogue ever published. Alpha Delta Phi has published twelve others at irregular intervals since that time. Six editions of Alpha Delta Phi song books have been published, the first one having been issued by the Yale Chapter, in 1855.

A memorial of Samuel Eells, a cloth bound volume of two hundred and fifty-five pages, was issued in 1873.

Orations, essays, reports, etc., have been published in large numbers at different times since the origin of the fraternity.

The first number of the "Star and Crescent," the fraternity periodical, was published in May, 1879.

As to the government of Alpha Delta Phi it may be said that the corporate head of the fraternity is composed of fifty members, thirty-three of whom must reside in or near New York City. These fifty members constitute the Council. It was granted a charter from the state of New York on May 5, 1879. Most of the work of the Council is delegated to committees in order to facilitate rapid and effective operation.

The first convention of the fraternity was held with the Hamilton Chapter at Utica, New York, July 27-28, 1836. Since that time, with few exceptions, annual conventions have been held with one or another of the various chapters of the fraternity.

As to the distinguished names in Alpha Delta Phi it may be said, without boasting, that the Harvard Chapter alone has enough illustrious names on its roll to establish the reputation of any fraternity.

James Russell Lowell, Phillips Brooks, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Chas. Francis Adams, Jr., Edward Everett Hale, President Elliott, of Harvard, and the two leading members of the bar of New York City to-day, Joseph H. Choate and James C. Carter, are all from this chapter.

The Yale Chapter is not far behind Harvard, and the smaller colleges have done their share.

In the field of literature may be mentioned the names of Donald G. Mitchell, Hamilton W. Mabie and George William Curtis, and in theology the names of Bishops Coxe and Huntington of the Episcopal Church, and Dr. Storrs, of Brooklyn.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS KEEN

Probably the fraternity's most conspicuous strength at the present time is in the line of education. It numbers in its rank to-day the presidents of Yale, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Clark, Amherst, Northwestern, Union, Andover, Smith and Vassar.

In public life Senator Allison, of Iowa, is its most prominent representative, and at the time of the death of the late Justice Blatchford, of the United States Supreme Court, one-third of the nine members of that body were members of this Fraternity, the other two being Justices Shiras and Brown.

In diplomacy Alpha Delta Phi has been represented by ministers to England, Germany, France, Russia, Spain, Turkey, Holland, Austria, Greece and Belgium. The most recent of these appointments were under the Cleveland administration—Mr. Uhl, at Berlin, and Mr. Quimby, at The Hague—both being graduates of the chapter at the University of Michigan.

There is no regular organization of Alpha Deltas in Philadelphia, but the members meet irregularly, generally about twice a year, and at the University Club, to renew old friendships and keep fresh their interest in the fraternity.

WILLIAM CHANNING RUSSEL.

PSI UPSILON

PSI UPSILON stands fifth in seniority among the College Greek Letter Fraternities of America. It dates its origin back to 1833, when the Theta Chapter was established at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., on the 24th of November. The original founders of Psi Upsilon were seven in number, viz: Samuel Goodale, at present of Columbus, Neb.; Sterling Goodale Hadley, of Waterloo, N. Y.; Edward Martindale, of New York, N. Y.; George Washington Tuttle, of Bath, N. Y.; Robert Barnard, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Charles Washington Harvey, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Merwin Henry Stewart, of Troy, N. Y. Samuel Goodale, Sterling Goodale Hadley, and Edward Martindale still survive, and all of them continue active interest in the welfare of the Fraternity. Especially is this so of Samuel Goodale, who is always venerated at Psi Upsilon functions which he may attend as the "Father of the Fraternity." Although 84 years of age, Mr. Goodale still attends Annual Conventions, Alumni Banquets, and other Psi U gatherings, and shows special delight in becoming acquainted with the younger members. Philadelphia was honored by his presence in the fall of 1898, when he attended the annual initiation of the Tau Chapter, at the University of Pennsylvania.

The policy of Psi Upsilon has always been one of marked conservatism, this being especially demonstrated in the small number of chapters that have been granted. The date of foundation and the location of these are as follows: Union College, in 1833; New York University, in 1837; Yale University, in 1839; Brown University, in 1840; Amherst College, in 1841; Dartmouth College, in 1843; Columbia University, in 1842; Bowdoin College, in 1843; Hamilton College, in 1843; Wesleyan University, in 1843; Harvard University, in 1850; University of Rochester, in 1858; Kenyon College, in 1860; University of Michigan, in 1865; University of Chicago, in 1869; Syracuse University, in 1875; Cornell University, in 1876; Trinity College, in 1880; Lehigh University, in 1884; University of Pennsylvania, in 1891; University of Minnesota, in 1891; University of Wisconsin, in 1896.

Of the twenty-two chapters granted since 1833, but one is inactive, the Alpha, of Harvard University. Psi U has no chapters south of the Ohio nor west of the Mississippi.

The general business of the Fraternity is transacted at Annual Conventions, which are held with the various chapters in rotation. Each chapter is represented at these conventions, and many alumni are present to share in the business of the meeting and to partake of the festivities of the occasion, chief of which is the banquet. The general administrative business of the Fraternity is vested in a council of five members, resident in New York, where the business of the council is transacted.

The last catalogue of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity appeared in 1888. It contained the names of 6,778 initiates, an annual increase of 204 names during the period between the publication of the ninth catalogue, and the last, the tenth. The same increase, if continued from 1888 to the present time, would denote a list of about 9,000 initiates. This publication gives a full record of each member who has entered Psi U, as far as it is possible, from the founding of the Fraternity to the date of its issue.

Among other interesting data, the tenth catalogue gives a list of fathers and sons and other relatives who have joined Psi U. The recapitulation of this list is as follows: Father and five sons, 1; father and four sons, 3; father and three sons, 6; father and two sons, 22; father and one son, 142; seven brothers, 1; six brothers, 2; five brothers, 4; four brothers, 15; three brothers, 77; two brothers, 461; number of fathers, 174; number of sons, 221; number of brothers, 1,252; number of related members, 1,568.

There certainly seems to be much in that list that gives credence to one of Psi U's songs:

" And when the little ones come on
" We'll brand them all Psi Upsilon."

Another publication of which the Fraternity is justly proud is the Psi Upsilon Song Book. This has passed through nine editions, each larger and more complete than the preceding. The last three contain the scores, as well as the words, of each song. All of the words are original with Psi U, and many of the scores. These songs are prominent at all gatherings of Psi U men, and have helped individual members many times,

REV. SAMUEL GOODALE

Venerated as "Father of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity."

" When the heart is faint and weary,
" And the world seems black and drear,
" And the stream of life floats slowly, sadly by."

Professor Hjalmar H. Boyeson, one of Psi U's most noted judges of poetry, says this about the song book: "When I take the song book of the Fraternity, and read all those songs, full of the heartiest lyrical feeling and most beautiful spontaneity of expression, that sort of rousing rhythm that makes a song a song, it seems strange to me that we should not have heard of it outside the Fraternity. . . . I have compared it with other song books, and have found in none so much poetical talent."

To the Greek Letter Men of Philadelphia there are two events in the history of Psi Upsilon that are of special interest. These are the establishment of the corporation of "The Psi Upsilon of Philadelphia," and the founding of the Tau Chapter of the Fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania. The charter of the Alumni Association was granted, under the laws of Pennsylvania, by the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia, in 1889. This corporation was a continuation of the "Philadelphia Psi Upsilon Alumni Association," formed in 1877. Its objects are to cultivate social and intellectual enjoyment among its members, and to spread that spirit of Psi U which had done so much for them in their college days. At the annual banquets of the corporation, which are occasions long remembered for their fine fellowship, good cheer, and spontaneous flow of wit, can be found men of Psi U who have made their marks in every walk of life. "Priests, bishops, missionaries, judges and lawyers, statesmen and scholars, soldiers and sailors, bankers and merchants, engineers, mechanics and agriculturists, men of religion, men of science, men of law, men of business—they have made illustrious and honorable the name of the Psi Upsilon."

The corporation is constantly active in all affairs of the Fraternity, and has from its incipency endeavored to make the chapter of Psi U at the University of Pennsylvania prominent not only among the other chapters of Psi U, but also among the other fraternities represented at Old Penn.

Among the other alumni organizations that have made the spirit of Psi U prominent and its influence felt, may be mentioned the Psi Upsilon Club of

New York, and the Psi U Alumni Associations of Boston, Detroit, Chicago, Washington, Grand Rapids, Milwaukee and Honolulu.

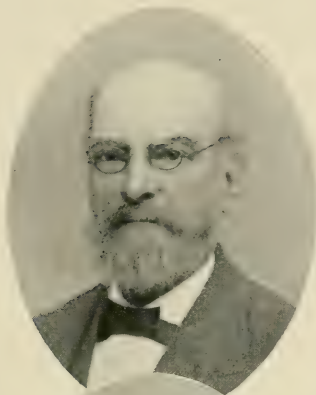

The foundation of the Tau Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania was accomplished in 1891, after some years of hard work and earnest endeavor on the part of the applicants. It was made possible through the active interest of the alumni of other colleges who had chosen Philadelphia for their homes. With the establishment of this fraternity at Pennsylvania came increased activity in the University's fraternity world. Psi U was the first fraternity at Penn. to possess a chapter house for the undergraduate members, an example which has since been followed by most of the prominent fraternities at the university. The old chapter house was located at the corner of Thirty-sixth and Locust streets, and Woodland avenue, occupying a site diagonally opposite the college grounds that is unsurpassed for fraternity purposes. This old house has been razed, and a new stone house is under construction, to be completed in the spring of 1899. This new hall will be the gathering place of all Psi U men who dwell in, or visit, Philadelphia, and the accommodations to be afforded them will be such that Psi U gatherings will become more popular than ever. There will also be accommodations for about twenty undergraduate members, who will make the house their home during the collegiate year. The culinary arrangements of the new home will be up to date, and will furnish all the necessities requisite for brain and muscle work for their Alma Mater,

When completed it will be the finest fraternity building in connection with Pennsylvania college life, and an admirable adjunct to the dormitory system which is being established. The erection of such a handsome structure is made possible only through the active interest of the Alumni Association and the liberality and untiring efforts of some of its members to make the surroundings of those who enter Psi U the best that can be obtained.

DELTA UPSILON

EVERY organization that has a life worth the living has a principle worth the telling. The Delta Upsilon Fraternity assumes to be such an organization, and its vital purpose, stated briefly, is to secure the union of college men of kindred tastes for the promotion of social, intellectual and moral culture on an open basis.

In the main its aims differ little, perhaps, from those apparently professed by the secret college fraternities. It is in its principle of conduct toward outsiders that its position is unique. On this line it can be said without Phariseism the fraternity has no rival. For while other fraternities differ from each other in achievements, in closeness of organization, in degree of extension, Delta Upsilon differs from the rest in a fundamental idea expressively declared in its constitution.

The Delta Upsilon Fraternity is an open, non-secret organization. By these words, open and non-secret, is not meant that the proceedings of its chapters are necessarily to be published in the college papers. Nor does it mean that its meetings are open to all, with or without invitation. On the contrary, it means first of all, that the fraternity constitution is open to such persons as care to read it. It means that no man joins the fraternity knowing nothing of what the final pledge requires. It means that that pledge puts on the initiate no obligation to keep from any one information regarding the chapter or fraternity that he may wish to impart.

The fraternity was founded in 1834 at Williams College. Its history has been one of constant growth. The Delta Upsilon Fraternity to-day numbers over seven thousand members. It has active chapters in thirty-one colleges, as follows: Williams, Union, Hamilton, Amherst, Adelbert, Colby, Rochester, Middlebury, Bowdoin, Rutgers, Brown, Colgate, New York, Cornell, Marietta, Syracuse, Michigan, Northwestern, Harvard, Wisconsin, Lafayette, Columbia, Lehigh, Tufts, De Pauw, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Technology, Swarthmore, Stanford, California.

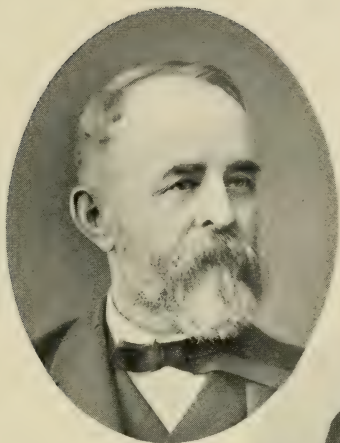

These chapters have an average of twenty-four under-graduate members each. Eighteen of these chapters own their own chapter houses, and four are planning to build this summer. There are fifteen alumni clubs of the fraternity located in New York, N. Y.; Chicago, Ill.; Boston, Mass.; Rochester, N. Y.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Providence, R. I.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Detroit, Mich.; Columbus, Ohio; Cleveland, Ohio; Philadelphia, Pa.; Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis.

The fraternity numbers among its sons many who have gained distinction in various fields in this and other lands, among them being President James A. Garfield, Secretaries of War Redfield Proctor and Daniel S. Lamont, Attorney General W. H. H. Miller, Stephen J. Field, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; Charles C. Nott, Judge of the United States Court of Claims; Charles G. Dawes, Comptroller of the Currency; Elijah B. Sherman, L. L. D., Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court of the United States at Chicago; and Judges Hamilton, of Minnesota; Borden, of Texas; Boise, of Oregon, and Tripp, of South Dakota.

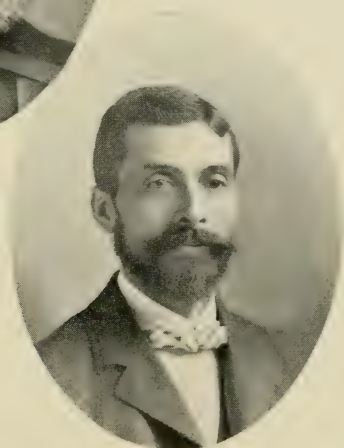

Delta Upsilon has a long list of United States senators and members of congress, among whom may be mentioned the venerable Senator Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont; Congressmen Blair, of Michigan; Payne and Smith, of New York; Sperry, of Connecticut; Stone, of Pennsylvania, and Rockwell, of Maine. Also governors and ex-governors such as Knapp, of Alaska; Powers, of Maine; Voorhees, of New Jersey, and Stearns, of Florida.

Among her college presidents are David Starr Jordan, of Leland-Stanford University; E. Benjamin Andrews, of Brown University; Beniah L. Whitman, of Columbian University; Chancellor Snow, of Kansas University; Yatobe, of the University of Japan; Atherton, of the Pennsylvania State College, and Washburn of Roberts College, Constantinople. And among its doctors of divinity Reverends Thomas Armitage, W. H. P. Faunce, Arthur T. Pierson, Nehemiah Boynton, B. Fay Mills, William Elliott Griffis, Samuel E. Herrick, Hiram C. Hayden, D. D. Mac Laurin, and Charles S. Vedder.

Among her scholars and literateurs are Rossiter Johnson, the editor of Appleton's Encyclopedia; Albert Barnes, the celebrated commentator, and a host of authors and writers, among them being Josiah Strong, author of "Our Country." William Swinton, Henry Randall Waite, Homer Greene, W. F. Bradbury, E. A. Bowser, L. L. D.; J. P. Taylor, L. L. D., and Berden P. Brown.

Emmons T. Mockridge

Thomas C. Ely

To mention the college professors, clergymen, physicians, lawyers and men of business who have achieved eminence would be to reproduce a large part of the roster of the fraternity.

The present officers of the fraternity are : Hon. E. B. Sherman, LL. D., president, Middlebury, '60, Monadnock Bldg., Chicago ; C. M. Bumstead, first vice-president ; C. G. Roe, second vice-president ; C. W. Chester, third vice-president ; Goldwin Goldsmith, secretary ; Charles Goss, treasurer ; Rev. H. T. McEwen, D. D., orator ; W. L. Corbin, poet ; Herman V. Ames, historian ; Rev. A. T. Pierson, D. D., chaplain ; Melvin G. Dodge, librarian ; C. F. Carmen, auditor ; Will Walter Jackson, editor Decennial Supplement.

Executive council : George F. Andrews, president ; Ellis J. Thomas, Samuel S. Hall, secretary and treasurer ; Thornton B. Penfield, editor ; John C. Hinckley, Thomas R. Weymouth, Burnett Smith ; Royal Storrs Haynes, Augustus H. Shearer.

There are three organizations of Delta Upsilon in Philadelphia and vicinity — the chapter at the University of Pennsylvania, the chapter at Swarthmore College, and the Delta Upsilon Club of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Chapter was established in 1888, and since then has been subject to the usual ups and downs of undergraduate organizations. The present chapter averages about thirty men and fairly represents the varied type of the student at a great university. For some years past the Chapter House has been located at 3913 Woodland Avenue. Here some of the active members live, and here all members of Delta Upsilon are sure of a warm welcome. With Pennsylvania the Fraternity met in the convention of 1898, celebrating the sixty-fourth year of national existence.

The chapter at Swarthmore grew out of a local society which had existed there for some years. In 1891-92 the name of Pi Kappa Omega was formally adopted and active steps taken to attain membership in Delta Upsilon. After the usual period of probation the charter was granted, and in 1894 the Swarthmore Chapter began its life. Since that time the chapter has been most prosperous and has attained an eminent position both in its own college and in the national Fraternity.

For many years there was an alumni club of the Pennsylvania Chapter. In the fall of 1897 the Delta Upsilon Club of Philadelphia was organized, to which all alumni of Delta Upsilon are eligible. The present officers are Dr. F. Mortimer Lawrence, president ; Franklin Baker, Jr., vice-president ;

John C. Hinckley, secretary and treasurer. The membership of the club does not merely consist of the names of all the alumni in the city, but only of those who are actively interested and who attend the meetings. Thus the club is a live organization and, although young, gives promise of great things.

Considering the fact that the oldest of these organizations has been established but ten years, we feel more than satisfied with the present strength of Delta Upsilon in Philadelphia. What the future will be is, of course, beyond our knowledge. With "Delta Upsilon" for our watchword we can at least look forward without fear to the years that are to come.

BETA THETA PI

BETA THETA PI was the first so-called "Western" fraternity to be established. It was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1839, John Riley Knox being the man who first suggested its organization and one of the leading spirits in its affairs from that date until his death, which occurred in January, 1898.

The fraternity adopted from the start a very active policy, and in addition to the chapters established by itself it greatly added to its hold upon the East by its union in 1879 with Alpha Sigma Chi, and in 1889 with the Mystical Seven. The former fraternity was founded at Rutgers College in 1883, and the latter at Wesleyan University in 1837. They both had good chapter rolls, and the alumni of both were admitted into full fellowship in the Beta Theta Pi.

Although liberal in its policy of extension, Beta Theta Pi has always held high its standard of membership, and has an especially strong roster of active chapters.

The government of the fraternity during the first eight years of its existence was in the hands of the Apha Chapter, but after that time a convention of the general fraternity assumed its government. During the recess of this convention the affairs of the fraternity were administered by the presiding chapter, each chapter being successively termed the presiding chapter, in the order of establishment. This system of government continued practically unaltered until 1879, when a new constitution was adopted providing for a board of nine directors, three retiring each year. The members of this board were usually so chosen that six of them resided in the same vicinity.

In 1898 a revised constitution was adopted reducing the board of trustees to six, establishing the office of president, making the general officers members of the board, and greatly centralizing the doing of business.

Five catalogues have been issued and a song book published at six different times. "Beta Theta Pi," the official organ of the fraternity, was founded in 1872, and has since enjoyed a continuous and prosperous existence.

The badge is an eight-sided shield, the sides of which curve inward. The shield is black enamel, displaying the Greek characters Beta Theta Pi, above which is a wreath encircling a diamond. At the top of the badge are three stars in gold. At the bottom, and beneath the name of the fraternity, are four Greek letters.

The colors are light pink and light blue. Its flower is the rose, each chapter choosing a separate variety.

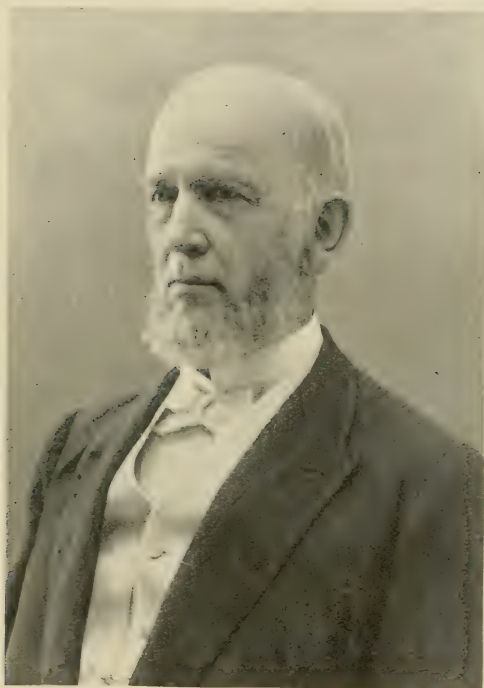

Alumni Associations are at Akron, O.; Boston; Charleston, W. Va.; Chicago; Cincinnati; Cleveland; Columbus, O.; Denver; Hamilton, O.; Kansas City; Milwaukee; Minneapolis; Nashville, Tenn.; New York; Philadelphia; Pittsburgh; Providence, R. I.; St. Louis; San Francisco; Springfield, O.; Washington, D. C.; Wheeling, W. Va.

Active chapters are in existence at the following universities and colleges: Harvard, Brown, Boston University, Maine, Amherst, Dartmouth, Wesleyan, Yale, Rutgers, Cornell, Stevens, St. Lawrence, Colgate, Union, Columbia, Syracuse, Dickinson, Johns Hopkins, University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State College, Lehigh, Hampden-Sidney, North Carolina, Virginia, Davidson, Centre, Cumberland, Mississippi, Vanderbilt, Texas, Miami, University of Cincinnati, Western Reserve, Ohio, Washington-Jefferson, Ohio Wesleyan, Bethany, Wittenberg, Denison, Wooster, Kenyon, Ohio State, De Pauw, Indiana, Wabash, Hanover, Michigan, Knox, Beloit, University of Iowa, Chicago, Iowa Wesleyan, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Minnesota, Westminster, Kansas, Denver, Nebraska, Missouri, California, and Leland Stanford Jr.

The present general officers of the fraternity are; President, W. A. Hamilton, Chicago; general secretary, J. Cal. Hanna, Oak Park, Ill.; general treasurer, F. H. Sisson, Galesburg, Ill.

The Phi Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania was established in 1880. Its active members now occupy a chapter house directly opposite the University.

The Philadelphia Alumni of Beta Theta Pi organized their present association in 1884. Among those who effected this organization were Samuel D. Risley, M. D., Hobart A. Hare, M. D., Theophilus Parvin, M. D., Jefferson Shiel, J. C. Minton, N. R. Grimm, M. D., and Theodore Maris.

JOHN REILY KNOX
Founder of Beta Theta Pi

Annual banquets are given, and occasional dinners to prominent visiting Betas, among the more notable of which were the ones given in 1895 to Gen. James A. Beaver, ex Governor of Pennsylvania, and in 1896 to Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court.

The present officers of the Alumni Association are: president, H. A. Hare, M. D.; vice-president, George Fetterolf, M. D.; treasurer, Theodore Maris; corresponding secretary, Wm. Cramp Scheetz; recording secretary, Wm. M. Swain.

CHI PSI

THE Chi Psi Fraternity was founded at Union College, the mother of many of the oldest fraternities, in the Spring of 1841. The original members were Major-General James C. Duane, chief of engineers, U. S. A.; Judge Patrick U. Major, Philip Spencer, Col. Alexander P. Berthond, John Brush, Jr., Dr. Jacob A. Farrell, Robert H. McFadden, Samuel T. Taber, Hon. Wm. F. Terhune and Hon. James L. Witherspoon.

The fraternity immediately extended itself, choosing only those institutions whose soil was most fertile for college fraternities, as they exist. The wisdom of its choice manifests itself in the fact that the early chapters and the recent ones are all equally prosperous. Conservative extension in the Forties was followed by the same care in the succeeding decades, and is now the established policy of the fraternity. As the first Eastern fraternity to "go west," being the pioneer society at the Universities of Michigan and Minnesota, and as the only Eastern fraternity with a strongly developed Southern wing, Chi Psi pre-eminently holds a national character.

Chi Psi has now a total membership of 3,750, and 18 active chapters. It owns at present eight beautiful homes, and in the near future anticipates possessing half a dozen more. The chapter house at Cornell University is acknowledged by all to be the finest Greek letter fraternity house in this country. In the middle-west Chi Psi is the only fraternity owning homes at the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. During the World's Fair it was the only college society which maintained a club house in Chicago.

Chi Psi fosters more of a secret character than most of the fraternities, withdrawing itself from rather than pushing itself before the public eye. The bond among its members is very close, changing in no degree after college life, except to be drawn the tighter. Evidences of this are seen in the active alumni associations, which vie in loyalty with the neighboring college chapters. There exist now some twenty live alumni associations, which meet, not only in the yearly banquet, but in numerous informal dinners.

The close bond in the fraternity was greatly strengthened almost at its inception by the death of Philip Spencer, one of the original members. He was a son of a cabinet officer and a member of a family of high social position. Leaving college, he entered the navy, and while serving as a midshipman on the U. S. Brig of War Somers, was hung at the yard arm for alleged mutiny. The charge was groundless and has been proven so by many writers, such as Senator Benton in his "Thirty Years' View," James Fenimore Cooper and Gail Hamilton. For years after this occurrence, the Chi Psis were dubbed "Pirates" by their rivals in reference to the sad fate of Philip Spencer. But they defended him to a man and made him as St. Philip, the Patron Saint of the fraternity.

Chi Psi has published regularly catalogues and song books, has its waltz and two-step, and issues a quarterly, the Purple and Gold, named from the fraternity colors. This magazine, now in its fifteenth year, has a circulation of over one-third of the total membership.

The Badge is a jeweled monogram, composed of the Greek letter "Chi" laid upon the Greek letter "Psi."

The chapters are termed Alphas.

The fraternity has no honorary members, and does not allow a member to divide his allegiance with any other college society.

A few of its members are: Chief Justice Fuller, of the U. S. Supreme Court; Speaker Thomas B. Reed, of the House of Representatives; President Thomas W. Palmer, of the World's Columbian Exposition; Ex-Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson; Ex-Secretary of Agriculture J. Stirling Morton; Elbridge T. Gerry and Wm. Astor (now deceased), of New York City; Judge Wm. L. Putman, U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judges Chas. C. Dwight and Francis M. Scott, of the N. Y. Supreme Court.

The Association of Chi Psi in Philadelphia was permanently organized about two years ago, in order that those in the city might be in closer touch with the fraternity.

Dr. Horace Young Evans, Delta '55, is its president; Rev. Stephen Ward Righter, Rho '90, its vice-president; George Whitman Casey, Psi '87, its secretary, and William Hitz Mussey, Beta Delta '96, its treasurer.

The fifty-seventh convention of the fraternity was held in Philadelphia during April, 1898, under the auspices of the association,

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

AS with a man or a nation, so with a fraternity. In the short space allotted to this sketch, it is not the whole story of Delta Kappa Epsilon, not even the title of all the chapters in its chronicles that will be mentioned. A little over half a century ago our fraternity was founded. It had its beginning at Yale in 1844, and during the interval of fifty-four years it has grown to an organization that picks the best men from thirty-five of the leading colleges and universities of the United States. The oldest of them cannot yet be an old man, and yet the list is crowded with names the country knows and honors. During this time the conditions of student association have so changed that the glory of those early days, of which the witnesses yet survive, seems like prehistoric fable. In the imagination of each succeeding class the sun will be always shining on that log cabin in the Ohio forest, and the ivy will be ever thick and green about the temple at Yale, to which Mecca so many pilgrimages have been made. To these and other memories of the heroic age of Delta Kappa Epsilon, her every triumph adds new pledges that they shall be perpetual.

The details of the founding of our parent chapter are too well known to be repeated here. From the beginning the Dekes realized that they were founding a fraternity, not establishing a study hall.

The policy was clear, to make head against rivals in the East, and then surpass them in the South and West. Scarcely two years had elapsed before Bowdoin and Colby, Princeton and Amherst were occupied by aggressive chapters, and our first national convention called to meet at Yale at Christmas, 1846. The whole field of fraternity possibilities was gone over, and it was determined to occupy at once the leading southern colleges.

Nor was this all. In eight years Delta Kappa Epsilon had become thoroughly national. The impetus given by the early Yale classes seemed to assure prosperity for all time to come. For more than eight years longer her sky was to remain unclouded, and her grip to continue to be the open sesame, that, from Maine to Mississippi, opened to the visiting student the choicest circles of every great college in the land. Petitions for charters showered on every convention, and from the crowd of applicants Delta Kappa Epsilon added new chapters to her galaxy.

With 1869 commenced a new epoch of steady development that has continued to the present.

Fifty-four years have passed since the organization of this Greek letter society. The history of those years is a chapter roll embracing the following thirty-five representative institutions of learning in this country.

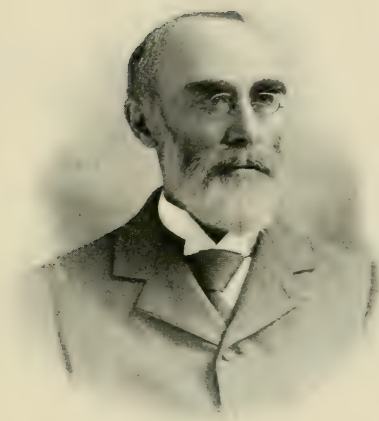

Yale, Bowdoin, Colby, Amherst, Nashville, University of Alabama, Brown, University of Mississippi, University of North Carolina, University of Virginia, Miami, Kenyon, Dartmouth, Central University of Kentucky, Middlebury, University of Michigan, Williams, Lafayette, Hamilton, Colgate, College of the City of New York, University of Rochester, Rutgers, DePauw, Wesleyan, Rensselaer Polytechnic, Adelbert, Cornell, University of Chicago, Syracuse, Columbia, University of California, Trinity, University of Minnesota, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

There are twenty-three alumni associations, with a membership of more than ten thousand names. The following is a list of the alumni associations:

New York City, Association of New England, The Northwestern Association, Detroit, Association of the Pacific Coast, Washington, Rhode Island, Buffalo, Kentucky Cleveland, Club of the Northwest, Eastern New York Association, Rochester, Connecticut, Mississippi Valley Alumni Association, Chattanooga Southern Association, Western Michigan Association, Harvard Association, Association of Central New York, Indiana, Mountain Association, Western Massachusetts Association, Wisconsin, Association of Central Tennessee.

Much could be written of those who have worshiped at the shrine of the fraternity and there paid their vows. In the record of the past half century there are names which have been most influential in directing state and national legislation; names which have adorned the science of jurisprudence and theology and medicine, and which will live in the literature of the professions; names of scientists and professors and authors who have largely influenced public opinion upon measures of public policy; names of soldiers who rendered the full measure of their devotion on fields of battle, while the pages of the fraternity are resplendent with the glory of her sons in the mighty struggle to preserve the Union. A society thus animated by a lofty purpose and with a perpetual succession may well review her annals and mark the stages of growth to the meridian of a century, and may well invite public judgment to the spirit and object of her existence.

ZETA PSI

THE Zeta Psi Fraternity was founded in 1847 at the University of the City of New York, by John B. Yates Somers, John M. Skillman, and William Henry Dayton, of the Class of 1849. Intimately associated with them was Rev. Wm. Henry Carter, D. D., who is still living. Through the energy of its founders and its new members, chapters were rapidly organized, sixteen chapters being established during the following decade in the leading Eastern colleges. A chapter was also established at the University of Michigan, which continued for many years to be the only chapter in the West.

The Phi Chapter, at the University of New York, has had a successful career since it was founded in 1847, except for a brief period (1879 to 1881) during the financial difficulties of the university. The Zeta, established at Williams College in 1848, existed in spite of the anti-secret society regulations of the college for seven years. It was re-established in 1881, and is now one of the most flourishing chapters. The Delta (Rutgers College, 1848) has enjoyed an uninterrupted and most successful existence to the present day. The Omicron (Princeton, 1850) maintained an unequal struggle against the opposition of the faculty for over thirty years. Not being permitted to have a lodge, it was compelled to initiate its members at the Delta and Sigma chapters. The Sigma (University of Pennsylvania, 1850) has maintained its most prosperous existence without a break. The Chi was established at Colby University, Maine, in 1850. The Epsilon, at Brown University, and the Rho, at Harvard, were established in 1852. The Epsilon has always been and is today one of the best chapters. The Rho, after a brilliant existence of six years, succumbed to the opposition of the faculty. It was re-established in 1881. The Psi (Dartmouth, 1853) flourished until the outbreak of the rebellion. An attempt was made to revive the chapter in 1871, but the restrictions of the college regulations prevented this. The Kappa (Tufts College, Mass., 1855) has existed without interruptions. The Theta (Union, 1856), after a successful existence of over ten years, declined with the decline of the college. Its charter was taken away in 1871. The Tau (Lafayette College, 1857) is another chapter whose prosperity has not been interrupted since it was established. The Upsilon (University of North Carolina, 1858) successfully maintained itself through the years of the rebellion and is highly prosperous today. The Xi (University of Michigan, 1858) was the pioneer chapter in the West. It is today one of the best chapters.

No other chapters were established until 1864, when a number of graduate members residing in Chicago received a charter for the Omega Chapter at the old Chicago University. It was very successful for many years. Anticipating the closing of the old university, the chapter was discontinued in 1883. The Pi (Rensselaer Polytechnic, Troy, 1865) had a most successful career until the decline of this college called for the withdrawal of the charter in 1890. The Lambda (Bowdoin) and the Beta (University of Virginia) were established in 1868, and still flourish. The Psi (Cornell) has been ever since its establishment one of the leading chapters. The Iota Chapter was established at the University of California in 1870, and was for many years the only college fraternity on the Pacific Coast. The charter of the Gamma Chapter (University of Syracuse, 1875) was withdrawn after a few years had shown that this college was not a desirable place for a chapter.

A most decided and unprecedented innovation in fraternity affairs was the establishment of the Theta Xi Chapter at the University of Toronto in 1879. This was followed by the Alpha Psi Chapter at McGill College, Montreal, in 1883. These chapters have reflected the greatest credit on the fraternity.

In 1879 the Alpha Chapter was established at Columbia University. In 1885 the Nu Chapter, at the Case School of Applied Sciences at Cleveland, Ohio. In 1889 the Eta Chapter was established at Yale. Although the fraternity system at Yale is peculiar to that college, and in many respects differs from the character of Zeta Psi, the Eta Chapter has been most successful. The last in the galaxy of chapters is the Mu, established in 1891 at the Leland Stanford, Jr., University, California. It has been a success from the start.

The chief characteristic of the Zeta Psi is its secrecy and the close companionship of its members. It maintains a greater degree of secrecy about its affairs than almost any other college fraternity. For many years it has been very conservative in granting new charters, having decided to establish chapters only in the best universities. The number of active members allowed in a chapter at any one time is limited, its aim being to create intimate friendships.

The Zeta Psi Club in New York City was established by graduate members in 1883. It has a most commodious club house at 148 West 34th street. There are alumni associations in New York, Chicago, Boston, Washington, San Francisco, St. Louis, Cleveland, Philadelphia and other cities.

Many of the chapters maintain chapter houses for active members, with council hall and rooms for secret work. The chapter house at Cornell is admitted to be one of the finest, if not the finest, in the United States.

The fraternity is governed by its Grand Chapter, consisting of delegates from the active chapters, and the members who have attained its highest degree. Its meetings are held annually.

The fraternity has issued complete catalogues in 1859, 1867 and 1883, and supplements in 1874 and 1889. A biographical catalogue is now being published. At the semi-centennial in 1897, it issued one of the finest song books ever published by any fraternity. A magazine, devoted to the fraternity, was first published in 1882 as a monthly, and subsequently changed to a quarterly. Its publication was suspended in 1886.

The Badge is a monogram of the two Greek letters "Zeta" and "Psi," the "Zeta" being imposed upon the "Psi." The "Zeta" is set with twenty-one stones.

The color of the fraternity is white; each chapter having a distinctive color.

Active chapters are at: University of New York, Williams College, Rutgers College, University of Pennsylvania, Colby University, Brown University, Tufts College, Lafayette College, University of North Carolina, University of Michigan, Bowdoin College, University of Virginia, Cornell University, University of California, University of Toronto, Columbia University, McGill College, Case School of Applied Science, Yale College, Leland Stanford, Jr., University.

The chapter at the University of Pennsylvania was founded in September, 1850. The list of Philadelphia alumni following this sketch tells the story of this, the Sigma Chapter of Zeta Psi, better than anything that might be said in this sketch. It is a chapter story of which any fraternity might be proud, and the strength and enthusiasm passed on through succeeding years offer the unanswerable argument of facts in refutation of the claim sometimes made that no real fraternity spirit can exist in chapters located at institutions in large cities.

The chapter occupies the houses located at 3337 and 3339 Walnut street.

The following are the present active members: Arthur Newlin, Fred'k Fraley, Jr., Wm. Sydney Young, Fisher Corlies Morgan, Adolf Brown von der Wielen, Arthur Morton Wilson, William Baker Whelen, Adolphe Edward Borie, 3d, Albert Pepper Gerhard, Malcolm MacLeod, Charles Gilpin, 3d, Walter Houstman Thomas, James Walter Steel, Samuel Rowland Morgan, Francis Cabeen Lea, Corbit Lovering, Thomas Duncan Whelen, Theodore Edmondson Brown, John Gilbert, Rowland Sletor Morris, Frank Mauran Rhodes, Laurence Johnson, Jr., William Roberts Howell, Clark Wharton Churchman, Benjamin Franklin Pepper, Paul Bedford, Edwin McMaster Stanton and Arthur Primrose Baugh.

The "Philadelphia Association of the Zeta Psi Fraternity of North America" was incorporated September 20th, 1897. It owns the houses occupied by Sigma Chapter. The following are the present officers: President, Wm. Platt Pepper; first vice-president, Chas. C. Harrison; second vice-president, Jos. C. Fraley; secretary, Francis S. Keese; treasurer, Jos. H. Burroughs; directors, Beauvean Borie, Francis Rawle, Geo. Wharton Pepper, Jos. H. Patterson, Henry N. Paul, Joseph B. Townsend, Jr., Wm. L. Nevin, Wm. C. Wiedersheim and Thos. McKean, Jr.

DELTA PSI.

DELTA PSI was established at Columbia College, January, 1847. Charles A. Budd and John H. Anton were its founders. A chapter was founded at New York University almost simultaneously with Alpha Chapter at Columbia, although it was regarded more as a branch of the Columbia Chapter than as a separate institution.

Fifteen chapters were established at various institutions during the first ten years of the fraternity's existence, several of these being in the South, but becoming inactive during the war. At the present time active chapters are in existence at the following colleges; Columbia, Trinity (Connecticut), Williams, University of Pennsylvania, University of Mississippi, University of Virginia, Sheffield Scientific, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The graduate members of the fraternity have associations, known as "St. Anthony" clubs, in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Catalogues of the fraternity have been published in 1876, 1889 and 1898. The last book was a very handsome volume, bound in light blue, the color of the fraternity. It was edited by Robert Thorne of New York.

The badge is a St. Anthony's cross, upon which is a shield with the Greek letters "Delta" and "Psi."

The total membership of the fraternity is about 3,000. Among the more prominent of these may be mentioned the following: Stewart L. Woodford, late United States Minister to Spain; Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, author and poet; U. S. Senator Money, of Mississippi; Stuyvesant Fish, President of the Illinois Central Railroad; General Elwell Stephen Otis, U. S. A.; Chief Justice Woods, of the Supreme Court of Mississippi; Congressman Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas; Governor Stephens, of Missouri; Nicholas Fish, ex-Minister to Belgium, and Robert Adams, ex-Minister to Brazil.

[The history of Delta Psi, to have been written by William D. Neilson, not having reached the publishers at the time of going to press, the above sketch is substituted.—Ed.]

THETA DELTA CHI

THE Theta Delta Chi Fraternity was founded at Union College in 1848. The founders were, Akin, Beach, Brown, Green, Hyslop and Wile, class of 1849. Hon. Allen C. Beach, Ex-Lieutenant Governor of New York, and General William S. Hillyer of General Grant's Staff were Theta Delts from same class. For twenty years the Alpha Charge governed the Fraternity, granting charters and exercising the usual functions of the parent chapter.

The original badge was a shield differing but slightly from the present official badge seen in accompanying cut. Badges are now worn in three sizes.

The Fraternity colors are black, white and blue.

The Theta Delta Chi flag consists of a field divided vertically into black, white and blue sections, black next the staff with letters Theta Delta Chi respectively in center of each section.

The Convention of 1868 changed the governing power from the Alpha charge to a body called "The Grand Lodge," composed of one graduate and two active members, to be elected each year in convention assembled. This body acts under a constitution and such rulings as may be noted in convention or by charges. The fraternity has published four catalogues, the last in 1895 shows 2968 living and 407 deceased members, with a geographical distribution covering almost the entire globe.

Two song books have been published.

The official organ is "The Shield," edited and published by Clay W. Holmes, Elmira, N. Y. It was founded in 1869, revised in 1884. It is published quarterly in the interests of the fraternity. Mr. Holmes has had the magazine since 1889 and during that time it has held its place in the front rank of Fraternity publications.

Theta Delta Chi is essentially an eastern organization. Since 1889, however, charges have been established in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin Universities, an eminently satisfactory departure even for this conservative Fraternity.

Theta Delta Chi celebrated its Semi-Centennial in New York City in February 1898. The occasion was a notable one. Hotel Windsor was crowded with Theta Delts. Many graduate members, representing every profession and business in which college men are wont to engage, were in attendance. Notable among these were Abel Beach and Andrew H. Green, the two surviving founders. A host of under-graduates were present, several charges attending in a body. What Theta Delta Chi is and what it has accomplished were faithfully portrayed in this celebration. Fraternity enthusiasm was at high pitch during the three days's session, reaching its culmination on the last day when the following programme was given:

Oration, Elmer H. Capen, D. D., Pres. Tufts College. Poem, Rev. Cameron Mann. History—First Period, Col. William L. Stone; Second Period, Prof. Duncan C. Lee.

Three hundred plates were laid for the banquet, with Mahlon N. Gilbert D. D., Bishop of Minnesota, as Master of the Feast. Clay W. Holmes, editor of "The Shield," was the moving spirit of the celebration and Chairman of Semi-Centennial Committee.

Among Theta Delts prominent in public life, we mention Hon. John Hay, Ambassador to England; Hon. John W. Griggs, Attorney-General U. S.; Hon. W. W. Thomas, Minister to Sweden; Hon. William D. Bloxham, Governor of Florida; Hon. Daniel N. Lockwood, M. C.; Col. William Lamb, Virginia; J. H. D. Wingfield, D. D., L. L. D., Bishop of California; Hon. Thomas Smith, Chief Justice New Mexico; Hon. Nathan T. Dixon, U. S. Senator R. I.; Hon. H. C. Brockmeyer, Ex-Governor Missouri; Alexander L. Holby, C. E.; Dr. George H. Bridgman, Minister to Bolivia; Hon. Henry J. Spooner, M. C. R. I.; John Brougham, Actor and Dramatist; Hon. F. C. Stevens, M. C. Minn.; Hon. James Lawrence, Cleveland; Hon. H. Melville Hanna, Cleveland; Gen. Winsor B. French, Elmer H. Capen, D. D., President Tufts College; S. M. Babcock, Chemist, Wisconsin; Solon I. Bailey, Astronomer, Harvard; Geo. W. Smith, D. D., President Trinity College; Mahlon N. Gilbert, D. D., Bishop of Minnesota; Chas. R. Miller, New York Times; Henry C. McCook, D. D., Philadelphia; David Gregg, D. D., Brooklyn; J. R. Mellon, Capitalist, Pittsburg; J. McBride Sterrett, D. D., Washington; Hon. Willis S. Paine, New York; Gen. William Smith, U. S. A.; James H. Perry, Chief Engineer, U. S. N.; A. M. Randolph, D. D., Bishop of Virginia.

Roll of charges. Amherst, Boston University, Bowdoin, Brown, College of City of New York, Columbia, Columbian University, Cornell, Dartmouth, Hamilton, Harvard, Hobart, Kenyon, Lafayette, Lehigh, Michigan, Minnesota, Rochester, Tufts College, Williams, Wisconsin, Yale.

Grand Lodge ; President, Carl A. Harstrom, Norwalk, Conn.; Secretary, Edmund S. Smith, Ithaca, N. Y.; Treasurer, Ernest G. Marble, Tufts College, Mass.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

THE Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity was founded at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa., in May, 1848. In the same year a chapter was established at the sister college at Washington.

The sturdy religious character of these colleges had a marked effect on the whole life of the fraternity, and is represented in our day by Bishop MacLaren of Chicago, Bishop Hartzell of Africa and Gen. Lew Wallace.

During the first ten years the fraternity extended into the great southwest, where the hearts of men were great, while their heads and hands were busy with the foundations of things that will keep our country great and good for centuries to come.

The war blighted the Southern schools, but the men who had been loyal as "Phi Gamms" were loyal as men, and are found in education, in business, in the professions, in every good work, leading the advance. The war and the anti-fraternity laws combined to limit the growth of the fraternity in the South.

The growth in the North was gradual yet steadily forward, until now, at the completion of the first half century of the life of the fraternity, there are forty-five chapters scattered from Massachusetts to California.

While the highest ideals of fraternity life and fellowship have been maintained, we find a breadth of type that is unusual. Lambda Chapter, with her literary atmosphere centering about Wallace, Eggleston and Ridpath; Old Delta, with her men of affairs, such as Judge Cooper, President Thomas of the Tennessee Exhibition, and President Waggoner of the University of Texas; the Philadelphia Chapter, with her strong young athletes, as Osgood, Orton and Fetterman. These and many other types have been blended together by the great bond of fraternal unity, till the fraternity is a living answer to the objection that fraternities tend to make men narrow in their interests and sympathies. The fraternity has a peculiarly clean record in matters relating to other fraternities, having been ready to recognize the rights of others, refraining from many of those practices that have brought disgrace to certain fraternities, and has had a high standard of inter-fraternity ethics while it showed the highest devotion to its own ideals. It has remained a democratic fraternity, seeking to be great by the service of humanity.

We who knew him best, held Osgood as an embodiment of many of our ideals. Great as a friend—terrible as a foe—serving the right.

During the fifty years of its existence the fraternity, while not making much of club comforts, has, nevertheless, accumulated a very creditable amount of property in chapter houses and halls throughout the country, and the tendency is increasing to look after these things. Cornell, Columbia and Tennessee chapters have been recently added to the list of those owning houses.

The alumni are grouped together in graduate chapters throughout the country in the large cities and there are strong bands in many of the smaller towns. The information regarding the chapters is printed in the Phi Gamma Delta Quarterly.

The latest edition of the Fraternity Song Book, edited by Walter C. Sier, musical director of Lafayette, has just appeared.

The recent edition of the chapter roll and directory, an octavo volume of over 1,400 pages, profusely illustrated, published by T. Alfred Vernon of New York, is one of the most remarkable works in all fraternity literature.

The fraternity color is the royal purple; the flower, the heliotrope; the flag, a purple and white pennant with the white star and the Greek letters "Phi Gamma Delta."

The chapter roll is given in the order in which they were established, viz: Washington and Jefferson, University of North Carolina, De Pauw University, Bethel College, Pennsylvania College, University of Virginia, Allegheny College, Hanover College, College of City of New York, Wabash College, Columbia University, Illinois Wesleyan University, Roanoke College, Knox College, Washington and Lee University, Ohio Wesleyan University, Hampden Sidney College, Indiana University, Yale University, Ohio State University,

PHI DELTA THETA

THE Phi Delta Theta Fraternity was founded December 26, 1848, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. The founders were six students, two in each of the three upper classes, viz.: Robert Morrison, '49; John McMillan Wilson, '49; Robert Thompson Drake, '50; John Wolfe Lindley, '50; Ardivan Walker Rodgers, '51; Andrew Watts Rogers, '51. Of these, Morrison, Lindley and Rogers are yet living, Morrison and Wilson were joint authors of "The Bond of the Phi Delta Theta," which is the fundamental law of the fraternity.

Phi Delta Theta now has sixty-four chapters in leading institutions, from Maine to California and from Michigan to Texas, making the fraternity national in extent. Since 1883, Phi Delta Theta has had a larger number of active college chapters than any other fraternity. Phi Delta Theta is established in twenty state universities. No other fraternity is represented in so many. In addition, five other institutions having Phi Delta Theta chapters receive state or federal support, or both. During the last decade few additions to the chapter roll have been accepted, and the policy of the fraternity has been in the direction of rendering old chapters more secure in their surroundings and increasing their property interests. A large number of chapters live in chapter houses, and in many cases own them, while other chapters are acquiring building funds.

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity was the first fraternity to divide its chapters into provinces, and to appoint a president over each province. There are now eight provinces: Alpha, comprising all chapters in and east of Pennsylvania; Beta, comprising Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, and Tennessee; Gamma, Georgia and Alabama; Delta, Ohio and Michigan; Epsilon, Indiana; Zeta, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska; Eta, Louisiana and Texas; Theta, California.

The membership of the fraternity is 10,033. The number of living members of Phi Delta Theta is larger than that of any other college fraternity, with two exceptions, being but slightly exceeded by them.

The first alumni chapter was established in 1876, and now there are thirty-eight such chapters in various cities, a larger number than any other fraternity. Alumni chapters have the privilege of being represented in the national convention, which meets bi-ennially, but not of making initiations. The convention of 1889 established Alumni Day, which is celebrated on the fifteenth day of March, the birthday of Rev. Robert Morrison, D. D., who was one of the founders. On that day every year, it is customary for each alumni chapter to have a social and business meeting, a dinner and a discussion of some topic of fraternity interest chosen by the General Council. The members of college chapters wear the colors and celebrate the occasion with ritualistic exercises, to which all resident alumni are invited. Phi Delta Theta was the first fraternity to establish such a custom.

In 1881 the fraternity was incorporated under the laws of Ohio.

Six editions of the fraternity catalogue have been issued, in 1860, 1870, 1872, 1878, 1883 and 1894, the last being a handsome royal octavo volume of 475 pages. Five editions of the fraternity song book have been issued, in 1874, 1876, 1882, 1886 and 1895, the last containing eighty-seven songs, many of which have been set to original music. Eight or ten pieces of sheet music inscribed to Phi Delta Theta have been published. Two editions of the fraternity manual, which contains a succinct history of Phi Delta Theta, have been issued in 1886 and 1897. The fraternity magazine, called "The Scroll of Phi Delta Theta," was first issued in 1875. It is a bi-monthly, liberally illustrated, the numbers averaging over 125 pages each. The "Palladium," a bi-monthly bulletin devoted to the private affairs of the fraternity, was established in 1894.

The badge, consisting of a shield, with a scroll bearing the Greek letters "Phi Delta Theta" in the lower part of the shield, and a radiated eye in the upper part, was adopted in 1849. In 1865 an addition to it was made, consisting of a sword attached to the shield by a chain.

Argent and azure were selected as fraternity colors in 1871.

The fraternity flag was adopted in 1891. It consists of three perpendicular bars of equal width, the outer bars of blue and the inner bar of white material ; each of the outer bars charged with three white five-pointed stars, and the middle bar charged with the Greek letters "Phi Delta Theta" in blue ; the stars and letters being arranged vertically.

The fraternity flower, adopted in 1891, is the white carnation.

In 1891 Pallas was chosen as the tutelary deity of the fraternity.

The open motto, adopted in 1880, is, liberally interpreted: "We enjoy life by the help and society of others."

The cheer, adopted in 1891, is "Rah ! Rah ! Rah ! Phi-Kei-A ! Phi Delta Theta ! Rah ! Rah ! Rah !"

The National Fraternity Conventions have been held as follows: 1851, Cincinnati, Ohio ; 1856, Cincinnati, Ohio ; 1857, Danville, Ky. ; 1858, Bloomington, Ind. ; 1868, Indianapolis, Ind. ; 1869, Chicago, Ill. ; 1870, Oxford, Ohio ; 1871, Indianapolis, Ind. ; 1872, Danville, Ky. ; 1873, Athens, Ohio ; 1874, Crawfordsville, Ind. ; 1875, Danville Ky. ; 1876, Philadelphia, Pa. ; 1878, Wooster, Ohio ; 1880, Indianapolis, Ind. ; 1882, Richmond, Va. ; 1884, Nashville, Tenn. ; 1886, New York, N. Y. ; 1889, Bloomington, Ill. ; 1891, Atlanta, Ga. ; 1894, Indianapolis, Ind. ; 1896, Philadelphia, Pa. ; 1898, Columbus, O., which celebrated the semi-centennial of the fraternity. The next convention will be held in Louisville, Ky., in 1900.

Active chapters are in the following colleges : Colby University, Dartmouth College, University of Vermont, Williams College, Amherst College, Brown University, Cornell University, Union University, Columbia University, Syracuse University, Lafayette College, Gettysburg College, Washington and Jefferson College, Allegheny College, Dickinson College, University of Pennsylvania, Lehigh University, University of Virginia, Randolph-Macon College, Washington and Lee University, University of North Carolina, Centre College, Central University, Vanderbilt University, University of the South, University of Georgia, Emory College, Mercer University, University of Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, University of Mississippi, Tulane University of Louisiana, University of Texas, Southwestern University, Miami University, Ohio Wesleyan University, Ohio University, Ohio State University, Case School of Applied Science, University of Cincinnati, Indiana University, Wabash College, University of Indianapolis, Franklin College, Hanover College, De Pauw University, Purdue University, University of Michigan.

Iowa Wesleyan University, University of Iowa, University of Missouri, Westminster College, Washington University, University of Kansas, University of Nebraska, University of California, Leland Stanford, Jr. University.

The administration of the fraternity is under the direction of the General Council, and a Board of Trustees, elected at each national convention. The General Council consists of J. Clark Moore Jr., president, Philadelphia, Pa.; Frank D. Swope, secretary, Louisville, Ky.; Hubert H. Ward, treasurer, Cleveland, O.; Hugh Th. Miller, editor of "Scroll," Irvington, Ind.; McCluney Radcliffe, M. D., historian, Philadelphia, Pa.; trustees, R. H. Switzler, Kansas City, Mo.; Hon. Emmett Thompkins; Dr. J. E. Brown, Columbus, O.; A. A. Stearns, Esq., Cleveland, O.

Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter was established at the University of Pennsylvania in 1883, by Dr. Frank Fithian, Kentucky Alpha, '80, and Dr. M. G. Tull, Pennsylvania Alpha, '80. The chapter has made steady progress, and is one of the strongest chapters in Alpha province.

The Philadelphia Alumni Association was chartered by the fraternity in 1888. In 1896 it was incorporated under the title of "The Phi Delta Theta Club of Philadelphia." The club is now building a club house at the intersection of Walnut street and Woodland avenue. It will be one of the finest fraternity houses in the city; and will be used by the active chapter as a chapter house, and will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next college year, October, 1899,

Alumni chapters are in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Washington, D. C.; Richmond, Va.; Louisville, Ky.; Nashville, Tenn.; Atlanta, Columbus and Macon, Ga.; Montgomery, Mobile, Birmingham and Selma, Ala.; New Orleans, La.; Cincinnati, Cleveland and Akron, Ohio; Indianapolis and Franklin, Ind.; Detroit, Mich.; Chicago and Galesburg, Ill.; Milwaukee and La Crosse, Wis.; Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.; St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.; Denver, Col.; Salt Lake City, Utah; San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal.; Spokane, Wash.; Providence, R. PHI KAPPA SIGMA

THE Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity was founded at the University of Pennsylvania on August 16, 1850 (instituted on October 19th of the same year), by Dr. S. B. Wylie Mitchell, J. Bayard Hodge, Alfred V. Du Pont, Charles Hare Hutchinson, John T. Stone, Duane Williams and Andrew A. Ripka. The first chapter established was the Alpha Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania, and the last, the Alpha-Epsilon, at the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago. Of the fifteen chapters established before the Civil War, only five are in existence—the Alpha, Delta, Epsilon, Zeta and Eta Chapters; the remaining active chapters—eight in number—having been founded at irregular intervals since 1872. Phi Kappa Sigma is the only fraternity ever founded at the University of Pennsylvania.

The history of the Fraternity has been peculiar, and in some respects almost unique. As will be seen from the foregoing, prior to the breaking out of the Civil War, the Fraternity prospered and waxed strong in numbers, the South being largely represented in the roll of chapters. The close of the war found it almost broken asunder, and only a few of the chapters survived the shock of disruption. Although sorely wounded, vitality was still present, and after a lapse of ten years the Fraternity had pulled itself together sufficiently to make a strong bid for life, and to have strengthened its hold on affairs by establishing several new chapters. This may be said to be the turning point in the history of Phi Kappa Sigma. Undaunted by blows that would have killed outright a less energetic organization, and undeterred by the darkest outlook, the Fraternity shook off by main force the fetters that bound her and stretched out her roots into more productive soil. During all this season of uncertainty and unrest the Alpha Chapter had stood like a rock, and around her the other chapters gathered for encouragement and support. That these comforts were fully meted out is shown by the fact that out of fifteen chapters established since (and including) 1872, eight survive, all of which are active and prosperous. The present chapter roll, therefore, consists of thirteen active chapters, of which five have been established since 1890.

Without in any way doing an injustice to the other chapters of the Fraternity, it may fairly be said that the Alpha—the parent chapter—has since its inception been the most prominent and most active of them all. In fact, for nearly twenty years after the Fraternity's foundation, the Alpha Chapter was constituted the governing body of the entire organization; and although since that time, the general government has been vested in an equal representation of all the chapters sitting annually as the Grand Chapter, the influence of Alpha has been paramount in shaping the destinies of Phi Kappa Sigma.

That this influence has not been improperly used, the present prosperity and progress of the Fraternity is evidence of the most convincing kind. Outside of her immediate interests, the most notable event in the history of the Alpha Chapter was the foundation by her of a prize at the University of Pennsylvania, of the interest on $400.00, presented in honor of the founder of the Fraternity, the late Dr. Samuel Brown Wylie Mitchell. The prize is awarded annually to the member of the Sophomore class who shall have done the best work in English composition during the year; and especial interest is added to this foundation in view of the fact that its acceptance by the Trustees of the University was the first formal recognition ever made of the existence of Fraternities at Pennsylvania. The prize was established in 1887.

The badge of the Fraternity is a gold Maltese cross with a black or white enameled border, and having in the center a skull and crossed bones. In the upper arm is displayed a six-pointed star, and in the right, lower and left arms the Greek initial letters, "Phi Kappa Sigma." On the obverse of the badge is the date, "1850" in Roman numerals, surrounded by a serpent. The colors of the Fraternity are old gold and black. The flag, as adopted on February 8, 1898, is of black bunting, with the letters "Phi Kappa Sigma" in old gold extending horizontally along the center. An old gold skull and crossed bones occupies the union, with a border of the same color on all four edges of the flag.

The bibliography of the Fraternity is quite extensive, dating as far back as 1859, and comprehending for the most part orations and poems delivered either at Conventions or Convocations, and printed by order of the same. A "Phi Kappa Sigma Galop," dedicated to the Gamma Chapter, was put forth in 1872, and a Memorial to the Founder was published by the Alpha Chapter in 1879. The most important bibliography, however, consists of the various editions of the "Register" (catalogue), published respectively in 1859 (Alpha Chapter), 1860 (Epsilon Chapter), 1872 (general, of all chapters), 1882 (general) and 1894 (general). In February, 1891, the first number of the "Phi Kappa Sigma Quarterly" was issued in New York City, devoted to the interests of the Fraternity, and since that time the journal has appeared continuously with greater or less regularity.

The Fraternity has no honorary members, and no alumni chapters, although the alumni resident in the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Chicago maintain a semblance of organization by holding yearly meetings and banquets. Among the more prominent alumni members of Alpha Chapter may be mentioned the following:

Samuel Dickson, Esq.; Charles E. Morgan, Esq.; Effingham B. Morris, Esq.; Dr. Barton Cooke Hirst; Frank M. Riter, Esq.; Randal Morgan, Esq.;

In the brief space here allotted to the writer, it is impossible to give a detailed history of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity or even of Alpha Chapter. Indeed the history of the former is so indissolubly connected with that of the latter, that up to within a comparatively recent period the history of the one is the history of the other. Up to a certain point, the careers of all the better Fraternities are similar—a history of their foundation, of the accretion of new chapters, of the death of old ones, of increase or decrease in membership. As far as the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity is concerned, no variation from this norm can be noted in the present sketch. Without boasting, however, there is one claim that the Fraternity can make without challenge, and that is, that it has never for one instant deviated from the path of honor, or connived at any act unworthy of an organization of gentlemen. Founded by the great man who founded the Military Order of the Loyal Legion in this country, the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity has ever striven to stand for what is best and truest in Fraternity life; and, while not at present, perhaps, capable of competing with some of her distinguished rivals in her roll of chapters or number of members, she yields to none in her ideal of what a Fraternity should be, or of what a Fraternity can be made by the united efforts of true and honorable men.

PHI KAPPI PSI

THE Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity was founded at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania, in February, 1852, by Charles P. T. Moore and W. H. Letterman. At the time of its foundation, there was an epidemic of typhoid fever in the college, and day after day those who were not prostrated by the disease sat at the bedside of their afflicted friends administering to their wants. The warm friendship formed in such trying times ripened into the fraternal sentiment, which, coupled with the dissatisfaction with the two societies having local chapters, led to the foundation of the fraternity.

During its early history, the fraternity extended rapidly, entering the best institutions in Pennsylvania and Virginia. In later years the fraternity entered Southern and Western institutions, and at present it has thirty-nine active chapters, extending from California to New Hampshire, and from Minnesota to Mississippi. In 1895 and 1896, chapters were established at Amherst and Dartmouth Colleges, this being the first move of the fraternity into New England. The attitude of the fraternity at present in the matter of extension is most conservative, and no new charters are granted except to institutions of the highest standing.

The following is the present roll of active chapters: Washington and Jefferson College, Allegheny College, Bucknell University, Gettysburg College, Dickinson College, Franklin and Marshall College, Lafayette College, University of Pennsylvania, Swarthmore College, Cornell, Syracuse University, Columbia University, Colgate University, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, Amherst College, Dartmouth College, University of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, Hampden-Sidney College, University of West Virginia, Johns Hopkins University, Columbian University, University of Mississippi, Ohio Wesleyan University, Wittenberg College, University of Ohio, De Pauw University, University of Indiana, Wabash College, University of Michigan, Northwestern University, University of Chicago, University of Wisconsin.

sin, Beloit College, University of Minnesota, University of Iowa, University of Kansas, University of Nebraska, Leland Stanford Jr. University.

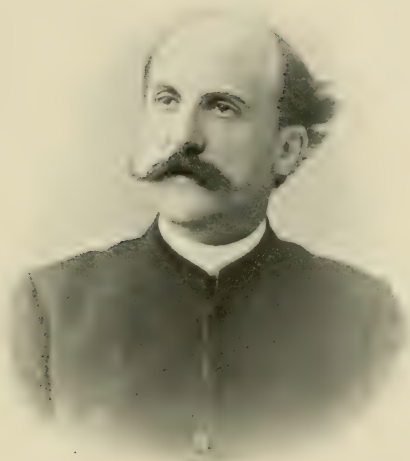

The following are the alumni associations: Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Meadville, New York, Washington, Cleveland, Newark, O.; Springfield, O.; Chicago, Kansas City, Twin City, Denver City, Bucyrus, O.; Indiana, Buffalo, Louisville, Salt Lake City, Anderson, Ind.; Portland, Ore.; Los Angeles, San Francisco.

The original system of government was by means of a Grand Arch Council, composed of three delegates from each chapter. The council met bi-ennially, though for many years the meetings were held once in every three years. One of the college chapters, called the Grand Chapter, was appointed to act as executive during the recess of the Grand Arch Council. In 1886 a new system was adopted. Its principal features being the continuance of the Grand Arch Council to meet bi-ennially; the establishment of an Executive Council, composed of three alumni, who constitute the officers President, Secretary and Treasurer, and four under-graduates; the division of the fraternity into four Districts, each to be presided over by an Archon; bi-ennial District Councils and a re-arrangement of the financial and judicial systems of the fraternity.

The secretary is the chief executive officer, and, with the assistance of the president and treasurer, practically has the control of matters under general instructions given at the annual meetings of the council. The present officers of the fraternity are, Hon. Walter L. McCorkle, of New York, president; Walter S. Holden, of Chicago, secretary, and George B. Baker, of Boston, treasurer.

The Catalogue of the fraternity was first published at Philadelphia in 1860. This has been three times revised, the last edition being published in 1894, under the editorship of George Smart, of Cleveland, O., and contains many of the best features of modern catalogues. A song book containing upwards of one hundred and fifty purely fraternity songs, was published in 1893 by Rev. Robert Lowry. A complete history of the fraternity is now in preparation.

The periodical of the fraternity was first called the Phi Kappa Psi Monthly and was published during a part of the year 1875 at Baltimore. In 1879, the fraternity began the publication of a monthly fraternity magazine called the Shield. This has been published regularly ever since. It is under the management of an editor who is elected at each Grand Arch Council. The present editor is Wm. C. Gretzinger, of Lewisburg, Pa.

MARION DEXTER LEARNED

The fraternity is wide awake on the chapter house question, nine of its chapters owning their own houses, which are conservatively valued at $100,000. Eleven other chapters occupy rented houses.

The present membership of the fraternity is 7,600.

The original Badge of the fraternity was a monogram of the Greek letters Phi Kappa Psi. This was discarded in 1854 and the present style adopted. The latter is a shield of gold, displaying near its top an eye, on each side of which is a star. Across the center are the Greek letters Phi Kappa Psi. and beneath is an antique lamp. The border is usually jeweled. The colors of the fraternity are pink and lavender.

The convention of 1890, held in Chicago, adopted a fraternity yell: "High, High, High, Phi Kappa Psi! Live Ever, Die Never, Phi Kappa Psi!" of which the Rev. Ernest M. Stires, rector of Grace Church, Chicago, is the author.

The Pennsylvania Iota Chapter was established at the University of Pennsylvania, October 13th, 1878, by Dr. John Marshall, Professor of Chemistry in the Medical Department, and by Dr. Edgar F. Smith, Professor of Chemistry in the College Department of the University. The growth of the chapter was rapid, and its membership soon included some of the brightest scholars and best athletes in the University. Chiefly through the agency of the two founders and of the late Prof. O. H. Kendall, S. D. Sadtler, David J. Myers, Henry H. Bingham, J. Douglas Brown, Thomas Chamberlain, Chas. H. Colket, Samuel G. Dixon, Wm. P. Elwell, Thos. F. and Wm. C. Gross, Wm. E. Helme, W. Macpherson Horner, Rev. Samuel D. McConnell, Dr. Wm. Campbell Posey, Prof. Felix E. Schelling, Wm. N. Wilbur, and others, an active Alumni Association was soon formed, which holds large and enthusiastic yearly banquets. This society has now about 300 names on its roll, and at its last meeting elected Mr. Morris L. Clothier its president.

The present active chapter is in a flourishing condition, consisting of 22 members, representing all departments of the University. It is comfortably housed at present at 3617 Locust St. but plans have already been prepared for a new house, especially well adapted to the purposes of a college secret society, which will be erected upon ground in the immediate neighborhood of the University.

CHI PHI

THE Greek Letter Fraternity Chi Phi as it now exists was formed by the union of three distinct orders bearing that name, each founded separately and without knowledge of the others, finally combined into a unit to secure the strength and influence sought by every Greek letter society and so well achieved by Chi Phi.

In the year of 1854 there was found at Princeton College the constitution of a Greek letter society bearing the date 1824, and having incorporated in its motto the Greek letters Chi Phi. The students making the discovery resolved to revive the old society and in December, 1854, organized the Princeton Chapter of this now great brotherhood. By untiring activity they constructed two more chapters at other colleges, although the original chapter finally succumbed to the repeated attacks of the Princeton authorities, always antagonistic to secret societies.

In the mean time a society had been founded at Hobart College by twelve men who bound themselves in a brotherhood of ideal principles and adopted an emblem identical to the one now worn by all members of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

This nucleus soon expanded into a power, founding chapters at three other colleges, among them one at Rutgers. Until 1865 these two orders flourished without knowledge of each other's existence. The discovery being made during that year by the accidental meeting of members of the two organizations, an intimacy arose which resulted in a consolidation of the two into one order. Then began a period of great activity, resulting in the organization of several new chapters and the publication of the Chi Phi Chackett, the pioneer of Greek letter society literature.

While this work was progressing in the North, college men in the South were by no means idle, for in 1858-59 there were established ten Greek letter societies at the University of North Carolina. Among these was a club named Chi Phi, which during a period of two years founded five other chapters. The civil war, however, was a terrible set-back, only one chapter (the mother) surviving, and the active membership of that one was greatly reduced by the call to arms. After the close of the war the surviving members pluckily went to work, recovered the constitution and charter, which had been buried at the time of Sherman's march to the sea, and rebuilt the organization, meeting with such success that the several chapters formed became a power in the college social world.

Short'y after the war the Northern and Southern orders were mutually astonished to learn of each other's existence, and a plan of consolidation between the Northern Hobart order and the Southern brotherhood was immediately set on foot. Owing to the sectional difference so strongly felt for a few years after the war, the scheme was not consummated for several years. In the mean time the Princeton and Hobart orders of the North were affiliated and finally in March, 1874, a committee composed of three members from the combined Northern organization and three from the Southern fraternity met at Washington, D. C., and adopted a constitution and by-laws for the united order and setting a date for the first convention, which was held in Washington, July 23, 1874.

A period of prosperity and success followed, and many applications for charters to form new chapters were received. A conservative policy was strictly followed, resulting in several strong chapters being organized in leading colleges.

In 1885, the chapter at Amherst College dedicated its chapter house, the first owned by any chapter of the fraternity. Since that time nearly all the others have followed the example of Amherst, notably among them being Cornell and Yale, the latter chapter boasting the finest college house in New Haven and probably in the country.

As Chi Phi now stands, it ranks among the strongest and most influential Greek letter fraternities, having twenty active chapters and showing a roll of over thirty-five hundred members, among whom are numbered many men prominent in the professional, political and business world.

Active chapters are at the University of Virginia, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Emory College, Rutgers College, Hampden-Sidney College, Franklin and Marshall College, University of Georgia, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Ohio State University, University of California, Stevens Institute of Technology, University of Texas, Cornell University, Yale University, Vanderbilt University, Lafayette College, Wofford College, Amherst College, Lehigh University.

SIGMA CHI

WHEN the first chapter of the Sigma Chi Fraternity was established at the old Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, June 20th, 1855, the State of Ohio was distinctly "Western" and Sigma Chi was a frontier institution. The brotherhood has grown with the region in which it was born and it is not surprising that the greatest numerical strength is found in the middle western states. For many years, however, the policy of judicious extension has governed the Fraternity and Sigma Chi now claims to be national rather than sectional. Isaac Jordan, Ben P. Runkle, Frank H. Scobey, Daniel W. Cooper, Thomas C. Bell and William L. Lockwood were the founders of Sigma Chi. These six men seceded from Delta Kappa Epsilon. There had been twelve men in the "Deke" Chapter. Six wanted one kind of a chapter and six wanted another kind of a chapter, and the result was a deadlock. There was an aggravated case of incompatibility of temper. After several stormy meetings, the bone of contention being some issue in college politics, the six took absolute divorce from the half-dozen and the Sigma Chi came into existence. At that time Miami was pre-eminent, not only in Ohio, but as compared with other western colleges. The student body showed a high average of ability. Therefore Sigma Chi was happily situated and the founders began their work with fighting enthusiasm.

The rivalry between the Fraternities was intense. No less than eighteen chapters had been established at Miami when Sigma Chi entered the list. The condensed platform of the new brotherhood was, the basis of all fraternal association must be good fellowship and congeniality—a real kindred of souls. The Chapter made its way and prepared for immediate extension.

The Order was first called Sigma Phi. In 1856 the constitution and private records of the Chapter were stolen by the enterprising enemy, and so the name was changed and a new constitution and ritual were adopted. The Alpha Chapter surrendered its charter in 1858, not being able to get the kind of members it needed, and the authority then passed to the Gamma Chapter of Ohio Wesleyan University, by reason of its seniority. It continued to administer the affairs of the Fraternity until 1882 when a grand council of graduate members was made the executive head of the Fraternity, with headquarters at Chicago.

The story of the Fraternity's gradual extension from state to state can best be understood from a running glance at the list of Chapters. With every other college brother it encountered heavy reverses during the war. It has the unique distinction of being the only Fraternity which had a chapter at the front in a brigade of the Confederate Army. It was called "Constantine Chapter" and was organized by southern members for the purpose of perpetuating Sigma Chi in the South. The meetings were held in camp and all the participants were soldiers in service.

The Fraternity published a preliminary catalogue in 1872 and a complete catalogue in 1876. The new edition, issued in 1890, was a large and pretentious volume, bountifully illustrated and containing the best features of modern catalogues. A song book was published in 1884 by the Beta and a new edition, very much enlarged, has lately come from the press. Every loyal "Sig" naturally believes that this is the best Fraternity song book yet published. The journal of the Fraternity is called The Sigma Chi Quarterly. It was first issued by Theta Chapter in 1881. Two years later it passed to the hands of an editor chosen by the general Fraternity. It is published at Chicago and the members confidently believe that it ranks high among fraternity magazines. In 1887 the Sigma Chi began the publication of a secret monthly journal called "The Bulletin," mailed under seal to active members and subscribers, and devoted to the internal affairs of the Order. This novel publication has proved popular and is of great help in the administration of business.

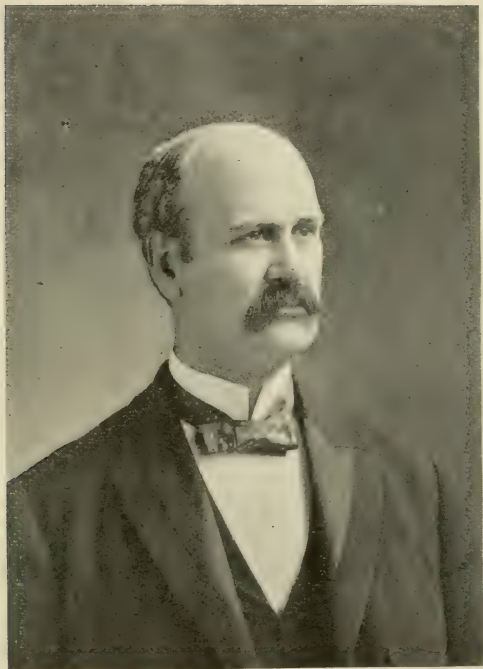

The badge of the Fraternity is a Sigma Chi cross of gold and white enamel. In the center is an elliptical plate of black enamel, displaying the letters Sigma Chi in gold. Upon the upper arm are two crossed keys, on the right arm a scroll and on the left an eagle's head. Upon the lower arm is a pair of clasped hands above seven stars. A chain connects the right and left arm with the top of the cross.

The colors of the Fraternity are blue and gold.

The flower is the white rose.

S. LEWIS ZIEGLER

EDWARD E. MONTGOMERY

The coat of arms consists of a Norman shield of blue bearing a white Sigma Chi cross, the shield surmounted by a roll in white and blue, with a crest of an eagle's head holding a key of gold. The public motto of the Fraternity, "In Hoc Signo Vincas," is placed beneath the shield on a ribbon.

Sigma Chi Active Chapters are in existence at Columbian University, Washington, D. C.; Pennsylvania College, Bucknell University, Dickinson College, University of Pennsylvania, Lehigh University, Pennsylvania State College, Washington and Lee University, Roanoke College, University of Virginia, Randolph-Macon College, Hampden-Sidney College, University of North Carolina, Miami University, Ohio Wesleyan University, Denison University, Centre College, University of Cincinnati, Kentucky State College, West Virginia University, Ohio State University, Indiana University, De Pauw University, Butler University, Hanover College, Purdue University, Northwestern University, University of Michigan, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, University of Wisconsin, Beloit College, Illinois Wesleyan University, Albion College, University of Minnesota, University of Nebraska, University of Kansas, University of Missouri, University of Mississippi, University of Texas, Tulane University, Vanderbilt University, Leland Stanford, Jr. University, University of California, University of Southern California, Hobart College, Dartmouth College, Columbia University, Cornell University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Phi Phi Chapter was established at the University of Pennsylvania in 1875. The chapter became extinct later, but was revived in May, 1896, since which time it has remained prosperous.

Sigma Chi Alumni Chapters are at Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Louisville, Ky., Nashville, Ky., New Orleans, Columbus, O. and Los Angeles, Cal.

The Philadelphia Alumni Chapter was formally organized May 6, 1893. The following were the first officers: Dr. E. Montgomery, president; A. P. Willis, vice-president; C. E. Folmer, secretary, and V. S. Anderson, treasurer. The first banquet was given at the Colonnade Hotel a month later, and since that time frequent meetings, banquets, etc. have been held.

The present officers of the Alumni Club are: Dr. S. Lewis Ziegler, president; Thomas Field, vice-president; Voorhees S. Anderson, secretary, and Albert P. Willis, treasurer.

DELTA TAU DELTA

THE Delta Tau Delta Fraternity was founded at Bethany College late in December, 1859, the exact date not being known on account of the loss of the archives during the Civil War, so that the fraternity has always recognized January 1st, 1860, as the date of its origin.

In the early days of the fraternity's life its government was in the hands of the undergraduate chapters, one chapter, known as the Alpha, exercising the chief authority: four chapters, the Theta at Bethany College, the Gamma at Jefferson (now Washington and Jefferson) College, the Mu at Ohio Wesleyan University, and the Alpha at Allegheny College, were in turn the Alpha Chapter.

In 1873 the fraternity was divided, for administrative purposes, into four divisions, the South, the West, the North and the East, in the order of historical precedence, the government of each representing in miniature the government of the general fraternity. The convention of 1884, however, decided to abandon undergraduate administration and created what is now known as the Arch Chapter, a body of nine members, five chosen from the alumni by the biennial convention, called the Karnea, which exercise the general administrative powers, and the presidents of the four divisions, chosen each by the conference of his division. This form of government has been carefully developed, so that the present Arch Chapter is practically an autocratic body during the interim between the Karneas, having alone the power to grant or to withdraw a charter. To this body, its consistent executive policy, is attributed what we consider the remarkable growth of the fraternity, accessions being for the greater part conservative, and withdrawals made courageously in many cases where the condition of the institution and the personnel of its students seemed to stand in the way of progress.

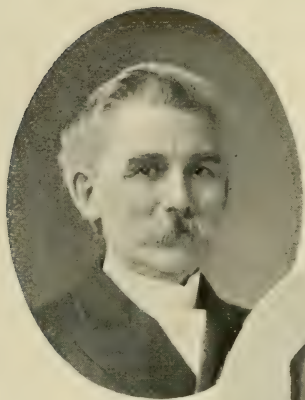

In 1884 was absorbed the Rainbow or W. W. W. Fraternity, a society founded in 1848, limited to seven active chapters, and established only in Southern institutions.

At this time, out of deference to the Rainbow members, white was added to the colors, which hitherto had been purple and gold. The fraternity flower is the pansy. The official journal is the "Rainbow," formerly known as the "Crescent," which was founded in 1877 and has appeared uninterruptedly since. Six catalogues have been published, the last in Philadelphia, 1897, and one song book.

Delta Tau Delta has forbidden the initiation of honorary members since the early seventies, was a pioneer in the campaign against the initiation of preparatory students, controls carefully the initiation of professional students, and prohibits its members from joining most of the so-called class societies, while lifting — a method of recruiting petitioners for charters which is at present so popular among the "old and conservative" fraternities—has always been decried.

The chapter membership now includes the State Universities of California, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Wisconsin; Brown, Chicago, Cornell, De Pauw, Indianapolis, Lehigh, Leland Stanford Jr., Northwestern, Ohio, Ohio Wesleyan, Tulane, University of the South, Vanderbilt and Washington and Lee Universities; Adelbert, Albion, Allegheny, Emory, Hillsdale, Kenyon, Tufts, Wabash and Washington and Jefferson Colleges; Rensselaer Polytechnic, Stevens and Massachusetts Institutes of Technology.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

THE Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity was founded in the city of Richmond, Va., on the 11th day of September, 1865, by the Rev. Otis Allen Glazebrook, still prominent in the Protestant Episcopal Church; Capt. Alfred Marshall, who died of yellow fever in Mobile, Ala., in 1870, and Judge Erskine Mayo Ross, now upon the Bench of the U. S. Circuit Court of California.

The Virginia Military Institute was the home of the mother chapter, Glazebrook and Marshall being members of the senior class, and Ross but recently graduated.

The first northern chapter was established in 1881 at the University of Pennsylvania. It has always been prominent in the councils of the fraternity on account of the resident alumni and the general standing of the undergraduate members.

In the fraternity at large the chief officer is the Worthy Grand Chief. Chapters and alumni associations send delegates to the congress, which is the legislative body and meets biennially. In the intervals between the meetings of congress its powers are exercised by the High Council, consisting of five prominent alumni.

A song book and catalogue have been published, but the organ of the fraternity is the Alpha Tau Omega Palm, printed in Chicago.

The total membership is probably four or five thousand.

The flower is the white tea rose, and the colors are blue, green, white and gold.

The fraternity yell is Hip, Hurrah! Hip, Hurrah! Three cheers for Alpha Tau! Hurrah! Hurrah!! Hurrah!!!

The list of chapters comprises Alabama A. and M. College, Southern University, University of Alabama, University of Georgia, Emory College, Mercer University, School of Technology. at Atlanta: University of Illinois, Ross Polytechnic Institute, Tulane University, Tufts College, State College, Maine: Colby University, Adrian College, Hillsdale College, Albion College, University of Nebraska, University of North Carolina, Trinity College, St. Lawrence University, Cornell University, Mt. The total number is forty-two.

In addition to these there are state alumni associations in active existence in Alabama, Massachusetts, Illinois, Ohio, District of Columbia, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Texas. And there are thriving city alumni associations at Allentown, Pa., Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, New York, Pittsburg and Atlanta.

KAPPA SIGMA

IN 1860 Drs. Geo. Wyatt Hollingsworth and Geo. Miles Arnold, while studying medicine in Paris, became acquainted with a gentleman named De la Croix, who excited their curiosity by describing an ancient academic or university secret society called the "Kirjaith Sepher," which had been founded at the universities of Bologna and Firenzi (Florence), Italy, between A. D. 1395 and 1400, by a fugitive Greek scholar, who was a professor in these institutions.

Members of the society attended the Ecumenical Council held in Pisa in 1409, and interested in their society delegates from the universities of Montpellier, Orleans and Paris, in France, and through them established branches at these institutions of learning.

Ultimately, the society became extinct in Italy, except in the family of De Bardi, who handed down the traditions.

These American gentlemen visited a member of this family in Florence and, being duly initiated into the order, secured permission to establish it in America.

In order to conform with the custom of American Greek Letter Fraternities, the name "Kirjaith Sepher" was changed to "Kappa Sigma," and the first chapter was founded in 1867 at the University of Virginia by George Miles Arnold, George Wyatt Hollingsworth, Edmund Law Rogers, John Edward Semmes, John Covert Boyd, and others. The idea of the founders seemed to be to maintain a strictly local society, and consequently extension was not attempted till six years later, when the government of the parent chapter had passed out of the hands of the founders. Since 1873 the growth of Kappa Sigma has been rapid and extensive, its present roster of fifty active chapters embracing a majority of the leading institutions of the country. There are ten alumni chapters and four state associations. Thirteen of the active chapters occupy chapter houses, several of which are owned by the fraternity.

Kappa Sigma maintains a hundred-page bi-monthly magazine, "The Caduceus," which was established in 1885, and a bi-monthly secret publication, "The Star and Crescent," for members only. Other publications of the fraternity have been several catalogues, a directory, songs and musical compositions.

The badge is the star and crescent; the colors, maroon, old gold and peacock blue; the flower, the lily of the valley.

The yell, "Rah, rah, rah, crescent and star; vive la, vive la, Kappa Sigma."

The membership of Kappa Sigma is about five thousand.

Alumni Associations: Yazoo City, Miss.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Pittsburg, Pa.; New York City; New Orleans, La.; Chicago, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Ruston, La.; Boston, Mass.; Chihuahua, Mexico.

Active Chapters; Louisiana State University, Davidson College, Centenary College, University of Virginia, Randolph-Macon College, Cumberland University, Southwestern University, Vanderbilt University, University of Tennessee, Washington and Lee University, William and Mary College, University of Arkansas, Swarthmore College, Tulane University, University of Texas, Hampden-Sidney College, Southwestern Presbyterian University, Purdue University, University of Maine, University of the South, Trinity College, Mercer University, University of Illinois, Pennsylvania State College, University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan, Columbian University, Southwestern Baptist University, U. S. Grant University, Cornell University, University of Vermont, University of North Carolina, Wofford College, Bethel College, Kentucky University, Wabash College, Bowdoin College, Ohio State University, Georgia School of Technology, Millsaps College, Bucknell University, Lake Forest University, University of Nebraska, Wm. Jewell College, University of Maryland, Brown University, Richmond College, Missouri State University, Washington and Jefferson College and University of Wisconsin.

Kappa Sigma was the first of the college fraternities to establish a chapter at Swarthmore. The expressed opposition of the Society of Friends—under whose influence the college exists to secret societies made the venture a daring if not a doubtful one, so that on July 25, 1880, when the charter of Pi

Wesley Lesh Blithe

La Barre Jayne Leamy

Charles Gordon Hodge

Harry W. Weyant

Clifton H. Close

chapter was granted to John A. Thayer and H. L. Boggs, the success of the movement was not at all assured.

The earnestness, stability and determination of its members soon changed opposition to toleration, and, finally, with the advent of time, truth asserted itself and the authorities could only recognize that the fraternity is a helpful and desirable element in college affairs.

Thus Pi Chapter — the pioneer of Swarthmore—opened up a new and fertile field for the Greek Letter Society.

On January 20, 1892, the charter of Alpha Epsilon at the University of Pennsylvania was granted to G. Harry Cavington, Frank R. Sherard, Alfred B. Clayton and M. G. Buckner.

From the date of its inception the progress of the chapter has been both marked and certain, and it holds an honorable position among the Greek Letter Societies of the university.

The early meetings were held in the rooms of members or in a hall rented for that purpose, but these methods were soon found inadequate and the chapter felt the need of its own hearth side. On November 28, 1898, Alpha Epsilon took possession of its present home—one of the finest fraternity houses in the country.
